Sugar Jumps Despite U. S. Inquiry

AIR PRICE PLOTS IN CABINET

Gamblers Facing Legal Action as Justice Dept. Ends Probe

ANNOUNCE INCREASE IN CANE QUOTATIONS

Tariff Commission Split In Investigation to Fix Blame

WASHINGTON, April 13.—An official announcement of the government's position with relation to the increase in sugar prices may be made shortly.

This was indicated in official quarters today after President Harding and his cabinet had discussed the situation for two hours.
The announcement, if made, probably will come from President Harding himself, cabinet members said, in declining to give out the results of the cabinet's deliberations.

President Harding and his cabinet took up the sugar situation as New York dispatches told of a new high price level for Cuban raw sugar.

Acting Attorney General Seymour, returning from a hasty conference in New York with District Attorney Hayward and other officials, took with him to the cabinet meeting a mass of data on the sugar price investigation the justice department has been making.

At the same time the report of the tariff commission which Mr. Harding directed to find out whether the tariff was responsible for the price increases, was postponed until next week because of a sharp division in the commission. Some members, it was stated, believed the tariff is in part responsible, while others hold it had nothing to do with the rapid rise in sugar prices. The commission's meeting with Mr. Harding has been deferred in an effort to reconcile the differences.

The data Seymour presented to the cabinet was understood to deal with the handling of sugar imports in New York. Whether it forms the basis for governmental action was to be discussed by Mr. Harding and his advisers.

PRICES JUMP AS CABINET GETS PRICE PLOT DATA

NEW YORK, April 13.—Cuban raw sugar was boosted to a new high for the year today.

Two cargoes totalling 12,000 tons were sold at six cents f. o. b.
Cuba for June shipment, which is equivalent to about 6 1/2 cents, cost and freight to New York.
This development follows the arrival of acting Attorney General A. T. Seymour to investigate sugar gambling as the suggestion of President Harding.

At this signal, beet sugar prices west of the Mississippi were elevated to 9.30 cents.
Seymour conferred with federal authorities here yesterday on the possibility of legal action against certain supposed sugar gamblers concerning whose operations he claims to have full evidence. It is considered extremely doubtful, however, that this step can be taken.

BLAZE ABOARD JAP SHIP UNDER CONTROL

SAN PEDRO, Calif., April 13.—
Wireless messages received today from the big Japanese freighter Fuji Maru indicated that the fire which two days ago threatened the vessel with destruction is now under control.

The boat, which is carrying a cargo of cotton from Galveston, Texas, to Japan, is expected to call here today for fuel. The fire occurred off the Mexican coast.

CAT NEAR SUICIDE

BRAINTREE, Eng., April 11.—
Joseph Thorburn's cat got so excited chasing a mouse over the kitchen stove that she hadvertically opened a gas tap. Thorburn smelled the gas and came into the kitchen in time to save the cat from asphyxiation.

'Stick' Hurlled Into Water by Boys
At Beach Explodes

There are three boys at Newport Beach, who are "off" throwing sticks into the ocean for amusement.

Yesterday afternoon the lads, who had been fishing, came upon four "sticks" along the beach. One of them picked up a stick, and hurled it into the water.

An explosion followed.
Water, sand and gravel arose, and fell again, covering the young men.

City Marshal J. A. Porter investigated, and found the "sticks" to be composed of nitro-glycerine and lime. The lime, coming in contact with the water, generated sufficient heat to explode the nitro-glycerine, it was said.
It was thought that the explosives had been used for fishing, a practice that is illegal.

REBEL FORCE HARD HIT IN ITALY CRASH

Troops Mow Down 200 Members of Hill Tribe During Clash to Halt Big Uprising.

BENGHAZI, Tripoli, April 13.—
Two hundred rebels were killed in one day of fighting between Italian troops and hill tribes near here, according to reports today.
The Italian garrison swooped down on an armed camp at Gardasi on April 11 and killed forty, according to word reaching here.
The fleeing rebels were pursued to Atlat, where they were reinforced and made a desperate stand.

Armored cars, however, routed them from their stronghold and they were mowed down by rapid fire guns.

INDUSTRY BOOM
TAKING LABOR
FROM FARMS

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, April 13.—A serious shortage of farm labor is imminent, the employment service of the labor department predicted today. So great is the demand already that in some sections of the west a shortage is apparent.

The whole industrial employment situation in the country shows a healthy and robust condition," the service statement said.
"This is producing an optimistic outlook for the steady decrease of unemployment in every section of the country."

Expansion in nearly all industries, noted in February, continued through March, the labor statement said. This was chiefly noticeable in the building trades, as
"in nearly ever section of the country large building programs are being commenced in construction or their commencement is anticipated by the middle of April."

The outlook for the iron and steel industry is "exceptionally bright" and in some centers there is a shortage of labor with an increasing demand in evidence.
The automobile industry, by its spring revival, materially reduced the number of unemployed in that line during March.

Fifty-four cities showed a decrease in unemployment in March over February, while eleven had more unemployment in March than in the preceding month.
These eleven cities included Denver, Omaha, Richmond, Memphis, Newark, N. J., Passaic, N. J. and Camden, N. J.

MEAT PACKERS PLAN TO INCREASE WAGES

(By United Press Leased Wire)
CHICAGO, April 13.—Increase of wages of workers in the packing industry is being negotiated in conferences between the management and representatives of the "company" unions here.

SOLONS VOTE
2 CENT TAX
FOR 'GAS'

Breed Measure Is Expected to Increase State Revenue
$5,000,000

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 13.—Completely revising the state motor vehicle laws, the senate today passed the Breed bill by a vote of 33 to 1. Senator Carr registered the sole opposing vote.

Some of the major provisions of the measure include:
Gross weight limit of 22,000 pounds for motor vehicles.
A flat $13 license fee for automobiles.

Fees for motor trucks ranging from $10 to $40 for sold tired vehicles and from $5 to $15 for those equipped with pneumatic tires.

Rigid examinations for all truck drivers.
Permitting county supervisors to increase the weight limit on county highways, should they desire.

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 13.—
The senate today unanimously passed the Breed bill fixing a tax of two cents a gallon upon all gasoline sold in California.

The measure which carried after a short debate, provides that the funds will go 50 per cent to the counties in proportion to the number of cars registered and the other half to the state highway fund for maintenance of roads. It is estimated that the revenue will total about $5,000,000 annually.

Following passage of the gasoline tax bill, the senate opened consideration of the other Breed measure entirely revising the motor vehicle laws of the state.

Senator Crowley today introduced a bill calling upon the state highway commission to draft plans for a new highway from San Francisco south to Redwood City furnishing the Bay district with another outlet.

SOLONS DEMAND BIG BUDGET INCREASES.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 13.—
Members of the senate finance committee will take up further consideration of Governor Richardson's economy budget on Monday night, it was announced today.
Two long and strenuous evenings have been spent by the upper house group discussing the document and receiving additional amendments proposed by legislators.

Amendments approximating $480,000 in increases were filed with the committee last night, bringing the total additional asked since the committee hearings commenced to over $1,000,000.

With solons asking additional appropriations for their pet institutions, the value and taxation committee of the upper house debated at length yesterday the report of Senator Nelson, Eureka, that the state has revenue for the next biennium aggregating $5,000,- 000 in excess of the amount estimated by the board of equalization.

The report followed an exhaustive search made some weeks ago by the Nelson committee. Various officials were quizzed concerning the state's finances. The $5,000,- 000 represents principally unsold veteran welfare bonds, interest on school lands and various other smaller items.

Administration forces declare the amount will not be available while opposing legislators assert a large portion of the figure can be used if desired.

The committee will consider further the Nelson report Monday afternoon, with the possibility that the finance committee will bring the amended budget to a vote that night.

SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

CAIRO, Egypt, April 13.—Howard Carter, discoverer of the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen, whose sudden illness Wednesday night gave rise to fears among the superstitious that a fate similar to that of Lord Carnarvon might be overtaking him, was somewhat improving today. Friends said Carter looked extremely weak and haggard, however. He was able to be out for a while last evening.

Judge Declares Court Cannot Fix Price
For Pint of Blood

SEATTLE, Wash., April 13.—Courts of law cannot set a price on a pint of blood.

Superior Judge John Sis-sons so decided when he dismissed the suit of Arturo Castell against Dominic Buzello for $5,000. Castell alleged Buzello owed him that much for a pint of his blood used in a transfusion operation when Buz-ello was ill.

"There is no way in law by which a just figure could be arrived at," the court ruled, and dismissed the case which was being heard before a jury.

LOCOMOTIVE JUMPS INTO
ARK. RIVER

Great Mallet Type Engine Bucking Snow Slide Takes 40-Foot Plunge, 3 Hurt.

SALIDA, Colo., April 13.— Three men were seriously injured when a Denver and Rio Grande Western locomotive left the rails and plunged forty feet into the Arkansas river west of here today.

Two large engines coupled together, were "bucking" snow and rock slides when the head engine was derailed.

The injured are M. H. Hout, engineer; Thomas Boone, fireman, and W. A. Woodward, trainmaster.

The engine was of the Mallet type, one of the largest in the West.

EL CENTRO, Calif., April 13.—
"I have taken a human life, and I believe it is just that I should repent mine."

This was the comment of Lawrence C. Campbell, 18, convicted of the murder of Leslie Nichols, insurance man, as he heard the fatal words of Judge Franklin Cole this morning dooming him to die on the scaffold at San Quentin on June 22.

Judge Cole overruled arguments for a new trial made during the morning session.

Charles Davis, Campbell's companion, who pleaded guilty to participation in the brutal desert murder, will be sentenced later this afternoon after evidence has been presented by counsel to show that he is only 17 years old. If substantiated, this fact would save him from the hangman's noose under the recently enacted state law.

3 MEET DEATH
AS FARM HAND
RUNS AMUCK

LODI, Calif., April 13.—Three persons are dead here today as the result of Joe Metti, a farm hand running amuck. S. M. Joslin, owner of a vineyard, Mrs. E. V. Mour-ier and Metti are the victims.

Joslin and Metti quarrelled at breakfast this morning, according to Herman Becker, ranch employe.
Hearing shots, Becker and another man rushed to the house.
They found Joslin lying in the doorway with two holes through his body. Mrs. Mourier had evidently tried to escape and was shot through the back, her body being partly under a bed.

Lying beside some barrels in the yard the body of Metti was found, the top of his head blown away by a charge of shot.

The shot gun with which the triple tragedy had been enacted was clutched in his arms.

INDIAN PREACHER DIES

DAWSON, A. T., April 12.—The Rev. Amos Njotiti, noted Indian preacher of the church of England, an eloquent speaker in his native and other Indian languages, died recently, according to word from Rampart House. He was ill several months.

Condemned Man Says
Mohammedan Prayer
As Death Trap Sprung

SAN QUENTIN PENITEN-TIARY, Calif., April 13.— Ullah Mohammed, Afghan, was hanged here today for the murder of Allah Akbar, a countryman, at Petaluma, more than a year ago.

At 10:11 the trap was sprung and thirteen minutes later a prison surgeon pronounced the man dead.

The Rev. J. E. Burton, an Episcopal rector, walked beside Mohammed on the march to the gallows and as the noose was adjusted asked God's mercy upon him.

But the prayers meant little to Ullah, for he died a Mohammedan as he had lived —face turned towards Mecca and mumbling in a wierd Afghan chant a strange Mohammedan prayer.

HOODOO DAY FEAR KEEPS MAN IN BED

Georgian, Recalling Injuries Sustained on Former "Jinx" Days, Plays Safe.

MACON, Ga., April 13.—A. J.
Parham took no chances with Friday the 13th today.

Parham stayed in bed to avoid any misfortunes.

His caution, Parham explained, was because the following things have happened in his life on these "hoodoo days."

Lost his eye when struck by a steel splinter.
Broke his arm cranking an automobile.
Slipped and broke his leg.
Foot smashed when a heavy block fell.
Garage destroyed by fire.

FOLDED HANDS OF DEAD GIRL HELD CLUE

SAN DIEGO, April 13.—"Habit!
The unconscious habit of a physician used to laying out persons who have died!" Thus did Deputy District Attorney Guy Sellick

graphically account, in his argument before the jury in the trial of Dr. Louis L. Jacobs, for the fact that Fritz Mann's hands were carefully folded across her breast when her body was found on wind swept Torrey Pines beach the morning of January 15.

Sellick's argument was begun at 2:45 yesterday afternoon. This morning C. K. Fitzgerald, defense attorney, began his argument. He will be followed by Chief Defense Counsel Paul W. Schenck, Los Angeles, criminal lawyer.

District Attorney Chester C.
Kempley will close for the state Monday, and the case will go to the jury either late Monday afternoon or Tuesday morning.

The defense closed its case with testimony by Mrs. Ella Worthington accounting for Jacobs' movements Saturday January 13, the prosecution in its final rebuttal testimony having all but shaken Jacobs' alibi covering January 14, the night of the tragedy, by showing that his alibi apparently applied to January 13 instead of January 14, as his witnesses testified.

Mrs. Worthington said she and the young doctor were together at Tia Juana all Saturday afternoon and returned to San Diego late that night. The doctor was a guest for the night at her home in Coronado, she said.

DECLARES PADDOCK TREATED UNFAIRLY

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 13.— Characterizing the national body of the A. A. U. as a "bunch of boneheads," Mounsey Pfefferkorn today declared a break between the Southern Pacific association and the national body would be the best thing possible. Pfefferkorn, local banker, is director of the San Diego branch and a governor of the Southern Pacific association. A personal friend of Charlie Paddock, he flays their action in tossing down Paddock's records.

"Paddock is the greatest runner in the world, and should represent the United States in France but the national A. A. U. wants to prevent him from going."

"We are having continual trouble with the eastern A. A. U. and could get along without them much better."

SLACK BRITISH STRIKE

LONDON, April 13.—Lockout of 500,000 workers in the building trades, scheduled for tomorrow, was averted when employers and union representatives agreed today to arbitrate their differences.

RAPS BAY DISTRICT
GREED

Realtors Urged to Favor Split If Necessary for South to Get Rights

GRAB POLICY DUE TO JEALOUSY, IS CLAIM

Equitable Sharing of Public Benefits Advocated
By Speaker

Declaring that the San Francisco bay district is antagonistic to Southern California and is grasping more than its share of the political and financial benefits of the state, Linn L. Shaw, of the real estate firm of Shaw and Russell, at a meeting of the Santa Ana Realty board at St. Ann's Inn here at noon today, advocated state division, if such action is necessary for the southern half of the state to get its just dues in matters political.

He advocated division, however, only as a last resort. He said that residents of Southern California have long been too passive and that state legislators of the north who have blocked reapportionment have brought about a state of affairs that should not longer be tolerated.

Shaw has just returned from a ten days' tour of the northern part of the state.

"On my visit to the San Francisco bay district," he said, "I was very much disappointed at the unvarying hostility manifested towards Southern California, a condition which has long existed, by the way, but which I hoped the general development of the state might in a measure have overcome."

Lays Stand to Jealousy

"The only possible explanation of this attitude is one of petty jealousy—a sentiment entirely unworthy of the great and glorious West. So far as I am aware, there is no such spirit in Southern California, except a growing tendency of retaliation at the bald unreasonableness of one section toward another based purely upon the superior enterprise of the more prosperous district. If California, as it now exists, cannot exist on a basis of even fairness, then I, for one, am strongly in favor of state division, which would be all to the advantage of Southern California."

"The north end of the state has steadily appropriated more than its share of the political and financial benefits of California. For instance, Southern California has not had a United States senator for thirteen years. Both senators are now from San Francisco. The lion's share of road money, as well as state institutions generally, goes to the north. To cap the climax, the north end of the state is now openly defying the constitution to prevent the proper representation of Southern California in the legislature through reapportionment."

Urges Adjustment

"If we had state division, we would have two United States Senators to represent our great and growing needs in congress. In addition, we would receive the benefit of all monies devoted for state purposes. I believe that an earnest effort should be made to get the affairs of California, as the state now exists, on a fair and amiable basis. Failing in that, a campaign for state division should be inaugurated and completed."

"Southern California already has lost too much through passive submission. Our prosperity has, no doubt, diverted our attention from the studied infringement on our rights, but there is nothing to be gained by the continuance of such an attitude."

"Let us demand the next United States senator, a friendly and cooperative spirit in all parts of the state and a fair division of public benefits of whatsoever nature."

Shaw presented a resolution covering in substance the foregoing points.

The board tabled the resolution until its meeting next week.

STAND FOR RIGHTS, PRINCIPALS TOLD

Fifty grammar school principals of Orange county were told to stand up for their rights and privileges by Dr. A. C. Woelmer, of the Southern Branch of the University of California, at the principals' dinner meeting held at Garden Grove last night.

"The rights and privileges of grammar school principals," Dr. Woelmer said, "have been gradually taken away from them. They have been deprived of their professional essential to proper fulfillment of their duties as educators."

"The Parent-Teacher association, organized for the purpose of assisting school executives, has grown beyond its original scope of activities and now is inclined to dictate rather than to co-operate by offering suggestions. The association is inclined to be distinctly arbitrary."

"Grammar school principals should unite and individually make a stand to stop this downward trend of their profession. They should fight for their rights, even though the fighting makes matters unpleasant for the moment."

"Even the city school superintendent has come in for criticism by his dictatorial manner with principals in some school districts."

LONDON PORTER DIES LEAVING FORTUNE; HE WAS THOUGHT NEEDY

LONDON, April 13.—Life in domestic service seems to be a profitable occupation in England. Recently a London porter died leaving a fortune of over $50,000 and now a hotel porter has left a will revealing a fortune of $130,000.

The porter was a former employee of the late Lord Marcus Beresford, but the porter was just Thomas Henry Cleave, an ordinary employee at the Lord Warden hotel, Dover, and the announcement that he had left such a large fortune has caused great surprise in his native town of Kings Cliffe, where he was known as the "Mystery Man" due to his general reticence about matters concerning himself.

It was believed by his townfolk that he had retired on a small income, based mainly on his tips as a porter, but it was revealed in his will that he had bought a great deal of real estate while at Dover, owned several apartment houses at Kings Cliffe and was in partnership with a bookmaker.

He retired from portering in 1896, when he was nearly sixty and from that date until his death he lived in great simplicity in a small cottage, being very careful in money matters and reserved in manner. This strengthened the local impression that his means were limited.

He had no relatives, and the will disposes of his money in 19 bequests, including $500 each to thirteen people in his native town.

OXEN, CARRETA HERE ADVERTISE PAGEANT

Bearing signs boosting the outdoor pageant play, "Ramona," which will be presented April 13, 14 and 15 in a canyon near Hemet, an ox team, hitched to an old Spanish carreta, today interested local residents as it moved slowly down the downtown streets.

Miss Rosa Costa, an interesting young Indian girl who takes one of the parts in "Ramona," sat in the carreta and passed out circulars advertising the pageant and everything in Santa Ana to attend. The carreta has visited virtually every city of importance in Southern California.

The Ramona pageant will be presented with a view to making it an annual festival which will draw hundreds of visitors to the valley. The residents of Hemet and San Jacinto, who jointly will stage the enterprise, have decorated the streets of the little city and expect to provide much of interest for the many outsiders expected. Spanish fiestas, with dance and song, will relieve the tragic story of the Ramona pageant. More than 100 persons will participate.

S. A. BAKING COMPANY READY FOR BUSINESS

L. H. Hill and George Vorah today announced the opening of the Santa Ana Baking company of their new building at 1435 West Fourth street.

According to Hill, this is the most modern and sanitary baking plant in Southern California and is prepared to produce anything and everything in the baking line. The products of the new bakery will be retailed by Hill's Bakery in the California Market at East Fourth and French streets, where a grand opening will be held tomorrow evening. Arrangements have been made with Mitchell's Five and Drum corps to leave Fourth and Main streets at 6 o'clock and proceed to the California Market. An orchestra has been engaged to play during the evening.

CORN FED VARIETY SCARCE ON SCREEN

LOS ANGELES, April 12.—One hundred and fourteen movie actresses gathered in a bunch, have given the interested world a little close up of the average leading lady of the screen, through the medium of the questionnaire.

The statistics show that every ten women who get their names spelled in electric lights, nine are products of the city, and one is of the home grown, corn fed variety. The ages of the 114 varied from 15 to 40, making the grand average of the film star 22 years.

There are seven brunettes to every four blondes; and strange to say, the same ratio obtains among those with long hair and those who have it bobbed. Four "bobbies" out of eleven stars.

Now, how about money? Well, 66 own Los Angeles real estate. Forty-four do not. Ninety-six have bank accounts, but there are only 14 who keep their savings in their stockings.

Among the 114 were 44 who have been married. There were eight widows and eight grass ones. There were 66 spinsters.

Of the 60 who have been to the altar, only four have become mothers. And one of these has three children. Storks are apparently shy of Hollywood or Hollywood is shy of storks.

Eighteen pretty maidens are engaged to be married, while there are nine who are willing to be. Twenty-two have never worn the solitaire, but a total of 22 of previous engagements was reported. The number incurred in individual cases ranged from none to nine—or nearly that—so no one felt slighted.

Thirty-four young actresses supported families; 16 take care of home and mother, while a brace of ingenues assist four World War veterans.

Ninety per cent have their own ideas of spelling, as exhibited in the smudged sheets they handed back.

CATTLE EXHIBITED

MEXICO CITY, April 11.—Mexico today is making its first attempt since the revolution for the rehabilitation of the live stock industry. A show and sale of pure bred live stock from the United States opened at the race track. Mexicans were given an opportunity to purchase the stock and even before the show and sale opened practically every animal was sold. Over 250 cattle and 400 head of sheep and hogs are on exhibit. Dairy cattle from Wisconsin and Texas, shorthorns from Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana, Herefords from Texas, sheep from Ohio and Wisconsin, hogs from Texas and Missouri attracted much attention.

PLAN NEW CHURCH.

EUREKA, April 11.—Local Presbyterians have had plans drawn up for a beautiful $40,000 mission style church and plans are being made now to raise the money to build the structure.

HEAVY ENROLLMENT.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 11.—The enrollment of Stanford this spring exceeds any previous spring quarter. When the first day of registration closed 2230 had registered, compared to 2073, at the same date last year.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS.

PINE RIVER, Minn., April 10.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the meat market of M. E. Peters company, and the store and contents of the Johnson Battery and Vulcanizing company here. The Masonic lodge rooms were also destroyed. The loss was set at $12,000.

PAYS FINE AFTER 29 YEARS.

RADIO BILL OF LIONS MAKES BIG HIT

Radio was treated to an excellent program last night when "Lions Club Night" was staged at KFAW, The Register's radio phone.

A musical entertainment of high quality was given by the Lions quartette and Alan Revell, pianist. Ten numbers in all were given, from 8:30 to 7:30 o'clock.

Attorney S. B. Kaufman gave an interesting talk in favor of the new charter proposed for Santa Ana. His analysis of the matter will be published in The Register, in full, before the question comes to a vote.

Lion C. E. Prior told the radio fans all about the Lions' convention which will assemble in Santa Ana May 24, 25 and 26, next.

The complete program given by the Lions was as follows:

1. Quartette, "Little Gray Home in the West," Lohr—The Lions' Quartette.

2. Piano solo, "Sunrise," Rubenstein—Alan Revell.

3. Tenor solo, "If I But Knew," Leigh—Lyle Anderson.

4. Quartette, "Until"—The Lions' Quartette.

5. Bass solo, "Three for Jack," Squire—Maurice Phillips.

6. Address, "The New Charter"—Attorney S. B. Kaufman.

7. Piano solo, "Who Will Take My Place When I'm Gone"—Lyle Anderson.

8. Five-Minute Talk, "The Lions' Santa Ana Convention"—Lion C. E. Prior.

9. Tenor solo, "You Tell Her I Stutter," Friend—Lyle Anderson.

10. Piano solo, "The Lions' Rag," Anderson—Lyle Anderson.

The Lions' quartette is composed of Lyle Anderson, first tenor; C. E. Prior, second tenor; Dr. E. H. Rowland, first bass; and Maurice Phillips, second bass.

Alan Revell was the accompanist for the quartette.

WEAK CHILDREN ARE BLAMED ON MOTHERS

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 13.—Flappers of today will make good mothers—as good as their mothers have made, according to Miss Jean Hamilton, dean of women at the University of Michigan.

"But the flapper's mother," Miss Hamilton added promptly, "has not made as good a mother as her mother made before her."

"The girl of today," says Miss Hamilton, "is suffering from the cult of the modern parent, which is the cult of 'I want my children to have more than I had.' In giving them more, they forget to give them as much. They give them more material things, make life easier for them at every turn, but rob them of responsibility."

"The young people of the last generation were expected to be responsible adults at 21 or 22. Because of that, their parents held them to responsibility when they were in their teens. They even allowed them to be disappointed. But parents today are too weak-kneed to allow a son or daughter to be disappointed. That being the case, they ought not to complain if, not having taught them to stand up to life, they go down before its temptations."

"And the reason for it all is the rapid increase of wealth. When ever I come in contact with any group of young people I am struck with the lack of that spiritual essence, that atmosphere of idealism which put character and service first."

"But the parents have only themselves to blame if, not having the courage to see a child suffer the consequences of his acts, they are rewarded with children who do not count the cost of their actions. There has been no cost to count as far as the parents are concerned."

"The industrial girl has learned lessons of life which the college girl was not yet aware of. The industrial girl is able to see values and make her own conclusions from the evidence at hand. She has been forced to develop some of the sort of personal responsibility."

LINK L. A. DEPUTIES WITH MYSTERY THEFT

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—Trouble was brewing today for three deputy sheriffs following the asserted confession of Deputy Sheriff "Dicky" Jones that he had given a girl friend articles which police found to have been stolen.

According to information, the articles were taken from the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Hamilton, 514 Garvey Road, Alhambra. She accuses officers who went there to investigate a shooting of taking the articles which were 113 in number.

Who will be mayor of Santa Ana for the ensuing term still was an open question today, according to members of the local board of trustees. Some of the members are passing the buck a la Alphonse and Gaston, and on the surface it appears that none of the members of the new board covet the position of presiding over the council and accepting the honor of being greeted by their subjects as mayor.

The councilmen will hold a conference tonight at 7:30 o'clock and decide certain matters pertaining to organizations before they go into their first session next Monday evening.

According to the men who will direct the future of Santa Ana after next Monday, they have not been besieged with applications for appointment to some of the "plums" that are to be handed out. No great change is anticipated in the heads of departments, it was said.

GUATEMALA POLICE ON CLARA'S TRAIL

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—A cable request for a definite description of Clara Phillips, escaped hammer murderess, was received from Guatemala today. The cablegram gave no information, merely asking for the description.

Inasmuch as scarcely a day goes by without two or three requests for descriptions of Clara arriving from various parts of the country, no particular excitement prevails.

It would be practically impossible to obtain Clara's extradition in case she is in Guatemala, it is said.

FIND CROWN JEWELS JUST PLAIN GLASS

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, April 13.—The "Russian crown jewels" were still missing today, despite sensational stories yesterday that J. A. Far-muth, ex-newspaper man and oil stock salesman, had superceded the late lamented czar as his owner.

Federal agents seized a "diamond tiara" in Jarmuth's possession on suspicion of non-payment of duty. Jarmuth said he brought the tiara in a second hand store in New York City for $1,000.

"And the reason for it all is the rapid increase of wealth. When ever I come in contact with any group of young people I am struck with the lack of that spiritual essence, that atmosphere of idealism which put character and service first."

Who is backing the charter? The business man because it means a better city with lower taxes. We are for it.

MERITS OF NEW CHARTER TOLD BY SPEAKER

M. B. Wellington, one of the three-minute speakers appearing at Santa Ana theaters last night on behalf of the proposed charter to be voted on Tuesday, said:

"In adopting the charter form of government, Santa Ana is, in a measure, patterning after the Orange county, which not long ago established a purchasing department. It was the duty of this department to standardize purchases and promote efficient working between departments of the county. Many believed the idea meant an added expense, but the tremendous saving which the county has made by the adding of this department has even surprised its most enthusiastic friends. The city manager plan, proposed for Santa Ana, uses the same principle in city government as a part of its plan. It will bring business management into the spending of the hundreds of thousands of dollars Santa Ana is to spend for outfall sewers, streets, water and other departmental expenses.

"In every single instance in which a manager form of government has been adopted in Southern California, there has been a lowering of expenses and a tremendous gain in department efficiency. Any person who believes that Santa Ana is being operated economically, should talk to any person who was a member of the freeholders, training the city all residents of long standing and successful business men acquainted with public affairs. There is not a radical in the group. They investigated deeply, and planned wisely. They made a charter, cut to the special needs of Santa Ana. It is a tailor-made document and not a

$4500 GOAL IN DRIVE FOR PLAYGROUNDS

With forty-five hundred dollars as the goal, a concerted drive was launched here today by those sponsoring the Community Service recreation plan in Santa Ana.

AIR SUICIDE THEORY IN DEATH OF BEAUTY

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—Police believed today that pretty Vida Menn, 25, a stenographer, committed suicide by using gas although when found in the rear yard of her home, blood was streaming from her nose and mouth.

A neighbor said he heard Miss Menn close the windows of her room. Shortly after she was discovered in the rear yard. The gas jets in her room were open. A pulmotor was used but unsuccessfully.

Another neighbor reported hearing the girl quarreling violently with a man several nights ago.

While Whitson, Gail and Carlis Smith, Tennessee men, arrested in the raid near Smeltzer in which officers seized what was said to have been the largest still in Southern California, were facing additional charges of Wright act violation, Whitson and A. R. Lee, arrested the day before, were being sentenced to six months each in the county jail.

The Smiths were arraigned yesterday on charges of possession. Whitson pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve 180 days or pay $860. The other two pleaded not guilty.

Today complaints were issued against them on charges of manufacturing, and they were awaiting arraignment on these charges. This offense involves superior court proceedings, and carries a maximum penalty of $1,000 or three years imprisonment.

Lee, arraigned in superior court, before Judge R. Y. Williams, pleaded guilty to selling liquor, and was sentenced to serve six months. His request for a $1,000 fine was denied by the court.

Paul F. Duc, arrested Wednesday when officers seized two large stills near Smeltzer, was free today. No complaint was filed against him. Duc resides a quarter of a mile from the place that was raided. He today desired it emphasized that he knew absolutely nothing of what was going on at the alleged distillery, that he did not rent the place to the men later arrested and that he did not resist the officers when they visited his place as they were en route to the moonshine plant. He said that when a party of men arrived Wednesday afternoon he did not know they were officers. He merely warned them of the extremely bad condition of a road which they planned to take, he said.

COMEDY SELECTED BY PLAYERS CLUB

FULLERTON, April 13.—"Little Mrs. Cummin" is to be the title of the three-act comedy-drama to be given by the Fullerton Community Players in the high school auditorium the night of April 20, it was announced today. The cast was also made public. The Boy Scouts are assisting in the sale of tickets and several business firms of the city have guaranteed to pay the cost of printing the program. The players are confident that when the curtain goes up on the play one of the largest crowds ever to attend a community play here will be in attendance.

WOMAN SUES TO GET PORTRAIT OF SELF

NEW YORK, April 13.—Mrs. Anne Palmer Fell of New York and Philadelphia, yesterday filed suit to recover a portrait of herself, painted 43 years ago and which later disappeared.

The defendant in the suit is Charles L. Baldwin, 145 West Fifty-eighth street. The complainant alleges that the painting is the work of Abbott Thayer, and is now of great value. Baldwin has declined to return the painting to her, the plaintiff declares.

Long Disappearance.

Mrs. Fell's story of the theft and long disappearance of the portrait constitutes a chapter of art history that is unusual. In 1880 the complainant states, the plaintiff and her family resided in Paris. While there, Abbott Thayer, then a young and unknown artist, was commissioned to paint a portrait of the young woman. The plaintiff and her family left Paris for Le Havre, France, just before the painting was completed. The portrait was to have been shipped to them, but was not seen or heard of again until 1920. The thief or thieves were never apprehended.

Learns of Painting.

In 1920 the plaintiff learned that the old painting was in possession of Mr. Baldwin. It was quite valuable at that time and Mrs. Fell demanded that Baldwin return it to her, the picture being one intended as a family heirloom. Despite her explanation of the loss of the portrait, Baldwin, she alleges, declined to part with it.

It is alleged that Baldwin procured the picture within the last six years, but the means whereby he acquired it are not set forth. No value is placed on the painting by the complainant.

NO PLACE FOR WOMAN

LONDON, April 11.—Women may have the right to vote and serve on juries, but Coroner H. J. Waldo will have none serving for him. He refused a woman on his jury when the bodies brought in 10 men and the woman, although the warrant had called for 11 "good and lawful men."

SOCIETY

Ladies' Aid Society

With Mrs. R. R. Miller in charge of the program, an interesting session of the Christian church Aid society was held recently in the church auditorium when the address of the evening was given by the Rev. Mr. Hearst of Huntington Beach.

Piano numbers, vocal solos and readings were also pleasing parts of the program which was followed by an adjournment to the community house where cake, fruit salad and coffee were served by the hostess committee.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

The North-West section of the Presbyterian Aid society was pleasantly entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Oliver Halsell, 2210 North Broadway.

A profusion of beautiful flowers made the Halsell home seem like a lovely garden and music added to the pleasant effect. Mrs. Freda Mosser Barger with two of her young pupils, Geraldine Graves and Julian Nissen gave two pleasing piano solos.

A reading on the theme of the afternoon was given in an interesting manner by Mrs. J. Dick Wilson. The happy affair closed with a social hour during which refreshments were served by Mrs. Halsell and the hostess committee, Mesdames Alex Brownridge, H. J. Forsy, W. W. Henry, E. M. Leonard and Miss Preble Drake.

ST. PETER LUTHERAN

St. Peter Lutheran parsonage was the scene of the regular meeting of the Aid society of that church Wednesday afternoon when the pastor, the Rev. George Pauschert, was present to lead the devotionals.

Mrs. Anna De Vol read an interesting paper on "The Hindoo Temple" and two new members were welcomed to the society, Mrs. Samuel Anderson and Mrs. Walter Sorrenson.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Otto Schroeder and Mrs. William Shaffer.

Edison Social Club

As plans progress for the "big party" which the Edison Social club is giving Saturday night, interest among the Edison folk and their friends, continues to grow.

The latest contingent to assure the hosts of an intention of being present is that from Laguna-Bell station, where work on the largest sub-station in the world is now being done. Laguna-Bell is the terminal of the 220,000 volt line from Big Creek beyond Fresno. The men employed there are planning to be among the guests at both afternoon ball game and evening party.

The ball game in the afternoon will be open to the general public with no admission whatever, in accordance with the Edison policy. It will be the opening game of the Edison league season and will be played by Vernon (ranking as "home team" for that day) and Whittier, the visiting team.

Interpersed with the dancing of the evening party will be an unusually interesting group of vaudeville numbers arranged for by the entertainment and program committees whose members include George R. Barrow, George Gilmore, F. R. Eyer and F. M. Gallagher.

The committee members are keeping the nature of the entertainment a profound secret except to say that it will be varied and will introduce many artists of song and dance.

PRINCE NAVAL RECRUIT

LONDON, April 13.—Prince Nicolas, 19, second son of the King of Rumania, has signed up as a midshipman in the British navy.

Loyal Helpers

Another of their famous social evenings was enjoyed last night by members of the Loyal Helpers' class of the First Congregational church when they were entertained at the home of their teacher, J. A. Cranston, by Mrs. J. A. Cranston and Mrs. F. L. Woodhouse.

Twenty-five members were present and all entered the events in the elimination contest for the Orange county track meet, with a tennis match (mixed doubles) as first event.

J. A. Cranston, well known for his ability on the court, with his partner, Mrs. G. W. Etchison, easily carried off honors with palm-leaf fans and balloons, after which interest centered on a three-legged race in which Neal Beisel was literally carried to victory by his partner, W. F. Martin.

A sack race arranged for the women of the class, was a draw between the two sides captained by Mrs. Cranston and Mrs. Gordon, as the noise from the bursting paper sacks was so deafening that it was impossible to say which side was louder.

The obstacle race, quite the liveliest event of the evening, also ended in a draw between Mrs. Herman Smith and Wesley Graser, who, armed with bulging suitcases and dilapidated umbrellas, had to race from room to room, unpacking the suitcases and donning the varied and amazing articles of wearing apparel contained therein, in record breaking time. Mr. Graser, with a pair of irritating boots several sizes too small, seemed to meet an insurmountable obstacle until he conceived the brilliant plan of wearing them on his hands.

An oratorical contest closed the events, with the Rev. Perry Shrock discussing the city charter and J. A. Cranston speaking on "The Governor's Budget. What is Wrong With It?" In direct contrast to the frivolity of the evening, the talks were serious and well designed for giving food for thought.

However "food for thought" was not all that was offered for Mrs. Cranston and Mrs. Woodhouse had arranged pleasing refreshments which brought the happy evening to a close. Credit for the affair was accorded Mrs. Neal Beisel who arranged the entertaining program to aid the hostesses.

Missionary Society

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

Well attended and distinctly interesting was the meeting Wednesday afternoon of the Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church when devotionals were led by Mrs. F. D. Porter.

Of chief importance were the reports of the recent annual presbytery meeting in Los Angeles which were offered by Mesdames Herbert M. Sammis, C. B. Buxton, Antonia Was, Grace Freese, E. P. Stafford, W. E. Roberts, Miss Jenny Kroese and Miss Preble Drake.

SPURGEON MEMORIAL

Bible and mission studies, led by Mrs. H. Donan and Mrs. Moffett Rhodes were features of the morning session of the all-day meeting of Spurgeon Memorial Missionary society held Wednesday in the church parlors.

Following the helpful and interesting talks, all repaired to the dining-room where at 12:30, a social hour was enjoyed to the accompaniment of a delicious luncheon.

The afternoon session opened with devotionals at 2 o'clock followed by a business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. T. W. Oglesby.

Mrs. Lillian Hamilton had charge of the literary program with a general topic of "The Evangelization of Korea." She was assisted by Mesdames Charles Widney, George Wright and W. A. Obarr.

Torosa Rebekah

Celebrating the twenty-third anniversary, Torosa Rebekah lodge had a very enjoyable session with program and refreshments Wednesday night at I. O. O. F. hall.

During the business session delegates were named to the state assembly to open soon in San Francisco. Those who will represent the lodge will be Mesdames Frankie Johnson, Zada Pankey, Amelia Frather, Ardine D. Clayton and Miss Hel Bemus.

Following the lodge session, children's night was celebrated with the program arranged by Mrs. Pankey. Master Edward Stovall gave the first number, a pleasing piano solo, later playing the accompaniment for a pretty song by his small sister and little Dorothy Carry.

Delightful recitations followed by different little people, Joyce Wentworth, June Wilson, George Monroe, Boyd Lentz, Chester Umberham and the two little Woodside brothers, Lamont and Donald.

A dainty basket dance was given by little Florence Liggett and Muriel Bray, Miss Freda Holland gave a pretty interpretative dance and Miss Edith Andrews danced "The Beautiful Blue Danube" to the piano accompaniment of Mrs. Andrews.

A pleasant little song was sung by Kenneth McKague and music by one of the high school orchestras directed by Loren Cannon was an enjoyable feature as were the violin solos by Mr. Cannon with Russell Rowland at the piano.

The evening was brought to a conclusion by the serving of cake, ice cream and coffee by a committee headed by Mrs. George Ford.

WHERE IS KING TUT?

PARIS, April 11.—When Lord Carnarvon reopens the tomb he has discovered at Luxor, Egypt, he will be disappointed, King Tutankhamen will not be there. The real tomb of King Tut was discovered in 1912, says George Rene, the French Egyptologist.

Bridge Games Varied By Music Following Pleasant Luncheon

Eloquent of spring's own charm was a delightful affair of yesterday when in the harmonious interior of St. Ann's Inn, society gathered in force in response to invitations from Mrs. M. Russell Scott and Mrs. James Metzgar. Spring pervaded the atmosphere, while flowers, frocks and champagne all added to the extremely decorative effect of the smartly appointed luncheon with which the affair opened. Pastel-tinted blossoms centered each of the small tables arranged for four guests and dainty cards denoting places, were in complete harmony. Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Metzgar were assisted in receiving by the former's daughters, Mrs. Loring Dale and Mrs. Eldon Fuller, Mrs. Metzgar's daughter, Miss Virginia Metzgar and by Mrs. O. E. Forgy. After the enjoyment of the daintily prepared and served luncheon further pleasure was added to the occasion by the introduction of musical features when F. Brooks Cole, popular baritone and the Arroyo Trio of Pasadena appeared. The trio, composed of Miss Esther Tobler, violinist, Miss Mary Tyner, cellist and Raymond McFeters, pianist, rendered a remarkably pleasing program, "Dance of the Hours" from "La Gioconda" (Ponchinnelli), "Farewell to Cucullian" (Kreisler) and "Liebestraum" also by Kreisler. Miss Tobler and Miss Tyner are both members of the Pasadena Community orchestra, both are heard frequently in recitals. Pasadena and Los Angeles and Miss Tobler will be soloist at the May festival.

Mr. McFeters, a pupil of Abby De Aviret, is accompanist for the Orpheus club of Los Angeles and the Occidental College Glee club and is also organist and choir director at the Westminster Presbyterian church, Pasadena. The guests felt that they were particularly fortunate in hearing Mr. F. Brooks Cole, whose magnificent baritone voice gives such pleasure to Pasadena and Los Angeles audiences. Mr. Cole chose for his numbers, the Prologue from "Pagliacci," "All For You" by Brown and the "Stein Song" from Reginald de Koven's "Robin Hood." Against such a musical background, bridge was rendered unusually attractive and at the conclusion of the afternoon, Mrs. Ray Chandler was awarded the victory and a handsome gift for her prowess. Second high score was made by Miss Rosa Boyd while consolation gift went to Mrs. J. H. Metzgar.

Many out of town guests were present, including Madames Arthur Morrison, F. Brooks Cole, Henri J. Van Proog, Harriet Worden, Antoinette Skelton and Miss Lillian M. Wayland of Pasadena; Mrs. Cecil Briggsby, Mrs. Lyman King, Rellands; Mrs. Cecil Randolph Luton, Los Angeles; Mrs. Walter Skillman, Fullerton; Mrs. F. L. Chapline, Mrs. John R. Porter, Mrs. Calvin D. ### Twilight Hour Chosen For Lovely Wedding In Local Church

One of the spring's loveliest weddings was held yesterday afternoon at twilight when Miss Lucile Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Miller of East Fourth street, became the bride of Mr. Arthur Martin of San Bernardino. Over one hundred relatives and close friends gathered for the event, and were seated by the ushers, Bruce Lawson and Sam Sutherland. The church was transformed into a bower of green by the lavish use of ferns and palms, which banked the organ loft, the pulpit and the chancel rail. Asparagus plumosa waved its soft, mossy baskets of white carnations stood out in relief against the green.

Miss Ruth Armstrong was at the organ and offered a program of bridal music, also playing the accompaniment for Mr. John Miller, a cousin of the bride, singing "Harlequin's 'Because,'" and for Miss Mildred Marchant, one of the bride's close friends, who softly whistled Cadman's "At Dawning." As the strains of Lohengrin sounded, the bride party entered, Miss Miller on the arm of her father, and Mr. Martin attended by Mr. Ray Sells as best man.

Four bridesmaids, the Misses Annie Anderson, Evelyn Baker, Rita Martin and Wilhelmina Bennett, each wearing orchid organdy with corsage of sweet peas, and an honor maid, Miss Quessie Miller in sea-green chiffon with an arm cluster of pink rosebuds, completed the group.

Miss Miller was a lovely bride in her gown of soft white satin and lace. Her long tulle veil fell from a chaplet of orange blossoms and her flowers were bride's roses and maidenhair morn in shower effect. As she neared the altar on her father's arm, they were met by the groom to whom her father resigned her and the young couple approached the altar together where the Rev. William Everett Roberts, using the double ring ceremony, read the marriage service.

Leaving the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding music, the young couple returned to the charming Miller home where an informal reception was held with

Details Told Of Quiet Wedding Saturday Afternoon

Eliciting much interest and many wishes for future happiness was the announcement made today of the wedding of Miss Veda L. Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Fisher, 3018 Santiago street, and Mr. F. H. Schneider, which was an event of Saturday, April 7 at 4 p. m.

The vows of the young couple were taken before the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the Christian church, with only a few of the relatives and closer friends present.

Miss Fisher was gowned in a smart frock of sand colored crepe, with harmonizing accessories. Following the ceremony all gathered at the Fisher home where a dainty wedding supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Schneider will make their home with the bride's parents at present and in June with Mr. Fisher and his mother, Lester Fisher plan to motor via the Yellowstone back to their former home in Missouri and later will go to Illinois before returning to Santa Ana where Mr. Schneider is storekeeper for the Pacific Telephone company.

Delta-Alpha Class

The home of Miss Esther Hendrickson was the scene of a gay gathering of the Delta Alpha class members last night when Miss Hendrickson and Miss Mattie Smith entertained.

Brilliant nasturtiums were used in a decorative effect, heightened by the quaint costumes of a by-gone day, in which the guests were arrayed. The evening opened with a short business meeting conducted by Miss Beulah Stone, class president. Later, lights were extinguished and in the soft glow of many candles, each one present produced the picture of an early sweetheart and told the story of why the affair came to nothing.

Stories both sad and amusing resulted and offered entertainment to all, the evening ended with a pleasant little supper served by the hostesses.

Enjoying the affair with Miss Hendrickson and Miss Smith were the former's mother, Mrs. L. P. Hendrickson, the Misses Pearl Kimball, Olive Briney, Bertha Briney, Maud Thomas, Alta Thomas, Beulah Stone, Edna Knoll, Hattie Cornett, Beulah Cornett, Minnie Wilde, Alice Davidson, and Mrs. Glasscock, all class members, and their guests; Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. Henry Isenberg, Mrs. Joseph Head, Mrs. Metz, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Tyner, Miss Thelma Glasscock, Miss German and Miss Isenberg.

Sycamore Rebekah

The trio of entertainers promise all manner of mysteries, none of which they will divulge until Saturday evening arrives, but a full attendance is expected to help solve the mystery of exactly what they plan.

Five hundred was the chosen diversion of the club members and Miss Isabel Wylie, proving most proficient at the game, was rewarded with first prize, a stamping outfit, Miss Hazel Hamilton won consolation gift.

As the hour giving the club its name drew nearer, the hostesses served a dainty two-course supper at the small tables, decked with flowers for the service. Enjoying their hospitality, were Mrs. Robert Jeffrey, and the Misses Isabel Wylie, Kathleen Trago, Alice Ma-teer, Kathryn Buxton, Marian Baird, Ruth Cope, Anna Grace McEree, Hazel Hamilton, Louise Campbell and Glenn-Jean Hill.

28 COUNTRIES IN MARKET ON U. S. GOODS

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The United States is in the enviable position of having merchants and manufacturers of 28 foreign countries seeking "Made in U. S." products, the department of commerce announced today.

While textiles lead in the list of commodities desired, almost every conceivable article of merchandise is wanted by those countries, the report said.

Countries that heretofore have been represented by random and occasional requests are indicating that they are in the market for a wide variety of merchandise.

The awakening of China is demonstrated by the long list of "wants" which embraces industrial machinery of almost every description, the report adds.

Australia wants player pianos and phonographs; Canada, among other things, wants artificial flowers; Mexico, the land of "fests," wants merry-go-rounds; India wants silk, cotton and woolen goods, and so on down the line.

The department of commerce has offices in 23 American cities, where detailed information may be obtained by dealers and manufacturers.

It was said today at the department that while several countries are in business chaos, the indications are that, in other countries, a business revival with all the earmarks of permanency is setting in.

SLAYER KILLS SELF.
BISMARCK, N. D., April 10.—George Haneckeyk planned to make a stand against a posse which he knew would come for him after he had killed Ellen Albertson, aged 19, at the farm home of her father, Edick Albertson, west of Bismarck, then lost his nerve and killed himself, authorities said, after returning with the bodies of the murder and suicide victims. Haneckeyk, a former Bismarck policeman, killed himself in the Albertson hayloft after he had beaten the girl to death with a stove poker. He placed the muzzle of a shotgun against his chest and forced the trigger down with a ramrod. After he killed the girl, he picked up a shotgun and a 22-caliber rifle and went to the hayloft with the intention of defending himself against those who might come to arrest him, authorities said they believed. The girl's father was away at the time of the shooting. There were indications of a hard fight by the girl. Marks on her throat indicated that her attacker had choked her. The girl's fingernails were torn, but in her closed hands were strands of hair torn from the man's head.

BOX CAR IS USED AS BEAUTY PARLOR BY CHICAGO GIRLS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 12.—Life for three Chicago maidens, still in their teens, in that metropolis was a humdrum, monotonous affair. The dances, other amusements and even the well-groomed youngsters who had occasionally escorted these sophisticated young misses on frolicsome ventures in the bustling Illinois city ceased to interest them in the slightest degree.

The trio—Myrtle Kruger, Mary Blough and Susie Ruiz—were fast friends. They had lived in Chicago all their 18 years. Their venturesome souls sought excitement, and they decided to "chuck it all" and make a transcontinental hike to "Sunny" California.

Started With $45 Fund
Pooling their finances, the girls' fund totaled $45. According to Myrtle—or "Bob," as her companions refer to her—the adventures hiked south from Chicago their first three days on the road. Their wardrobe consisted of khaki shirts, tight-fitting knickerbockers, canvas shoes and caps. They slept in haystacks, cowsheds, or deserted buildings.

"Bob" further related that Mary, Susie and she decided that "hiking" was far too slow a mode of travel. On the fourth day of the hike the girls clambered aboard a freight train.

A refrigerator car was our beauty parlor," Myrtle explained. "We were just a few miles distant from Kansas City when it was decided by my companions that my hair should be bobbed for safety's sake; and they cut my hair."

Their Trip Intercepted

When the bold and beautiful maidens reached North Kansas City terminal authorities frustrated their plans for "excitement" and a hasty trip to the Pacific coast. They were placed in the custody of a Y. W. C. A. matron.

Back in Chicago frantic parents were overjoyed when they received telegrams from the matron advising them of their children's whereabouts. Then it was but a short time until the matron received telegrams from Chicago, each of which contained instructions to care for their "wandering" child until someone arrived to see that the trio was returned to "deary" Chicago.

"Darn!" said "Bob."
"Gee whiz, somebody's always taking the joy out of life!" ruminated Mary.

BIG FUR CATCH
MONTREAL, Quebec, April 13.—Canada led the world in 1922 in the export of raw furs to the United States. The total fur catch for the year was over 4,000,000 pelts, valued at $16,000,000. While the general price of raw furs shows a downward trend, the total catch shows a remarkable increase.

METAL CAP TAKEN FROM BOY'S LUNG

DANVILLE, Ill., April 13.—Danville surgeons removed a small aluminum metal cap from a lip stick box from the right lung of Howard Compton, a 9-year-old boy, through the use of a tube. A delicate set of tweezers was inserted through the tube and the cap caught. The cap was 15 inches in a line from the boy's mouth and had been there for a week.

PILOT'S HURRY LANDS HIM IN JAIL HERE

Alfred Mott didn't gain a minute by hurrying home from the hill climb at San Juan Capistrano last Sunday.

In fact, he lost 15 days.

He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Bartlett, who accused him of driving on the left side of the highway and forcing other cars to leave the pavement.

Bartlett told Justice J. B. Cox that the man, disregarding the heavy traffic, drove through a lane in the middle of the pavement, and compelled several cars to drive into the ditch to avoid him.

So Justice Cox told him to spend 15 days in the county jail.

None of the four speeders, charged with travelling in excess of 50 miles an hour, who were scheduled to appear before Cox this week, had appeared.

Officers with warrants will bring them back, the court said, and their sentences in jail will not be lightened by their failure to appear, he promised.

DARING GEM BANDIT MURDERS SALESMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Ernest Engdahl, jewelry clerk was shot to death here last night in a daring robbery.

Anton Smith, aged 29, was arrested by police and charged with the murder.

A man believed to have been Smith entered the store of the San Francisco Jewelry company on Market street, asked to see a display of jewelry and when Engdahl's actions indicated he was suspicious, shot him. Engdahl died at the emergency hospital.

INN BUSINESS FLOURISHING, IS SHOWN

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of St. Ann's Inn, Inc., held at St. Ann's Inn here last night, A. J. Crookshank was named chairman and R. L. Blisby secretary of the meeting.

Of a total of somewhat more than 800 shares of stock, less than 300 shares were represented, so the old board held over automatically.

The annual reports of the secretary and treasurer showed the business of the Inn to be in a flourishing condition, having earned a profit of nearly $20,000 in the past six months, of which approximately $19,000 of indebtedness incurred under the former management of William Hewins was discharged.

A vote of thanks was extended to the trustees of the old organization and to the directors of the more recently incorporated company for their successful handling of the hotel's affairs.

Manager G. A. Schweiger was highly commended for his good work.

Plans were outlined for the improvement of the grounds and for providing an entrance from Birch street, with a canopy extending from the doors to the curb. This, it is believed, will relieve congestion on the Broadway side.

DEATH OF MERCHANT PUZZLE FOR POLICE

(By United Press Leased Wire)

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 13.—Police are today investigating the death of John S. Akerman, pioneer merchant of San Diego whose body was found last night in a gas filled room in a vacant house for which he was agent.

The gas jet was turned on and the windows closed. Whether Akerman fell, striking the jet and turning it on, or whether he took his own life because of financial worries, he was known to have been the problem the police hoped to solve. He had been suffering from a heavy cold, and might have fainted, the police say.

COUNTY IN NEW MOVE IN ROAD DAMAGE WAR

Indicating that the county's war against oil companies was not at an end, despite criminal and civil actions which have been filed during the past few months, J. L. McBride, county engineer, today secured a misdemeanor warrant for the arrest of W. M. French, W. P. Cady and five others, officials in an oil company, on charges of allowing water, oil and sand to cover a highway at Huntington Beach.

The complaint charged the defendants with allowing water, oil, sand and gravel to seep on Crystal avenue and Garfield street, Huntington Beach.

Several weeks ago the county brought suit for an injunction against several oil companies, and the court granted a temporary restraining order. Later, a criminal action was brought against officials of another company, and a sentence of 30 days in the county jail was imposed by Justice J. B. Cox, and then suspended during good behavior.

Today's action was similar to the first criminal action.

PHYSICAL DIRECTOR FOLK HOLD MEETING

Archer of the local junior high school was elected president; Glenn Lewis of Fullerton, vice president; Miss Potts, secretary and treasurer; Miss Nellie Wilson, entertainment committee; Miss Irene Jacques, refreshment committee; Miss Gillett, nomination committee; Miss Humiston, by-laws committee, and J. C. Lauderbach, publicity committee.

The following charter members were received: Miss Dorothy Humiston, Fullerton grammar school; Miss Florence Spranger, Anaheim junior high school; Miss Alice L. McNulty, Santa Ana high school; Miss Nellie Wilson, Santa Ana high school; Miss Irene M. Jacques, Anaheim high school; L. W. Archer, Santa Ana junior high school, and J. C. LEPER HOMESTEADS
HONOLULU, T. H., April 13.—Inmates of the territorial leprosy hospital at Kalaupapa, island of Molokai, would be granted homestead rights in a tract of 5000 acres of land adjoining the colony, by the terms of a resolution now pending before the territorial legislature. The resolution requested the Hawaiian homes commission, which is charged with the task of attempting to rehabilitate the Hawaiian race, to open up the tract as homestead land, and to limit the settlers to present inmates of Kalaupapa or to persons who have been paroled from the leprosy hospital in the belief that the affliction has been checked in their cases.

CROSS-NATION TOURING NOW STARTING

CHICAGO, April 12.—The spring touring season is opening, with automobile highways throughout the country, generally, in better condition than usual, according to a survey by the United Press.

Dispatches from many cities show that while miles of roads are still under snow in the north, most of the trunk lines are in good shape.

Today, the reports covering the east, south and southwest are presented.

In New York, paved roads are in good condition, except in the northwestern part, in vicinity of lakes, where there is still snow and ice. New England is still largely winter bound. Maryland paved roads are in good condition. State trunk highways in Pennsylvania are generally good, with only two detours. An unusual number of "frost boils" have appeared on the macadam, due to the hard winter. Intensive repair work is in progress.

HONOLULU PRINCESS WILL GET PENSION

HONOLULU, T. H., April 13.—Princess Elizabeth Kalaniano'le, widow of the late Prince Kuhio, who was Hawaii's representative in the federal congress for 20 years, will be paid a pension of $300 monthly for life by the territory of Hawaii, under the terms of a bill now before the legislature which has already met with the approval of the lower house. The plea was made that the sum was due the princess, not only because of the distinguished services rendered on behalf of the Hawaiian people by her husband but because of her own royal blood.

Considerable opposition to the bill was voiced in the house, several members attacking the sum as being too high, but it was finally passed when it was pointed out in debate that less than that would not be fitting to vote for one who was formerly a member of royalty.

TESTIFIES AGAINST KIN
NEW YORK, April 13.—Mrs. S. G. Warren of Middletown, has obtained a divorce from her husband on the testimony of the defendant's sister. The Warrens were married in 1910. There was no defense.

AUTO THEFTS DROP

ST. LOUIS, April 13.—Statistics announced by the National Automobile Dealers' association show that 35,333 automobiles were stolen in 28 principal cities of the United States as compared with 37,564 in the previous year. Clarence A. Vane, manager, ascribed this decrease to "low price levels for new automobiles," which, he said, "are rapidly eliminating the possible market for stolen motor vehicles."

ILL MAN TELLS 'GHOST CROP' AT TRIAL

Recalling testimony, pertaining to an asserted "phantom crop," contained in depositions from W. E. Thomas, Orange, said to be critically ill as a result of his alleged disappointment in land sold him by H. R. Painter, a jury in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court was prepared to start the fourth day of the trial involving the asserted exchange of orange and walnut land here for 120 acres of Minnesota property, said to be under water.

A recess was declared last night, until this afternoon, to permit the court to hear probate and law and motion cases, scheduled for this morning.

In his deposition, which was admitted only after argument, Thomas said that he had purchased a farm in Montana from Painter. Painter, he said, had told him that there was a valuable crop on the land, and that it contained a barn and house of value.

Investigating, after the transaction had been completed, Thomas stated, he found a meager crop, virtually worthless, and found the barn to be merely a fence, with a straw roof.

Attorney James L. Allen and James L. Davis, representing William and Etta Duncan, former owners of the orange and walnut land, who claim to have been defrauded by Painter, told the court that the deposition from Thomas was presented merely to show that Painter had engaged in so-called questionable transactions before.

Questioned again by Attorney Davis, Painter admitted that he had made careful investigation of the Tustin property, and that he had brought his suit charging fraud only to clear the title to the land.

It was expected that the case might not go to the jury until tomorrow morning.

Vote Against The Charter

1. Its adoption would add greatly to the overhead expense of city government.
2. It would abandon election of trustees from wards, so that all might reside in one part of the city.
3. It nullifies the recall and initiative.
4. It is not progressive, but is an untried, poorly constructed, mongrel document which would result in uncertainty, conflict and useless expense.
5. Do not experiment; our present charter gives ample power to do anything desirable that could be done under the proposed charter.

H. S. ORATORS OF COUNTY IN CLASH HERE

An element of mystery was injected today into the Southern California oratorical contest for high schools—a contest which is now entering one of its most spirited stages—when it became known that in tonight's semi-final contest for Orange county to be held at the high school auditorium here at 7:45 o'clock, the names of the schools which the contestants represent will be known to the judges in only two instances.

In tonight's contest, which will determine what Orange county high schools is to be represented in the final contest in Los Angeles May 11 for the grand prizes of $1500 and $500 for the best orations on the Constitution, the judges will know that Santa Ana's honors are being upheld by Miss Alice Richards and by John Harper.

But as for the other contestants, Miss Marjorie Lucas, Miss Dorothy Bishop, Frank Nuslein and Frank Watson, the judges will not know what schools they represent.

To Prevent Bias. Those in charge of the contest believed that to keep this matter secret would tend to prevent possibility of bias on the part of the judges, it was said.

Miss Richards and Harper will use "John Marshall's Great Contribution" as the subject for their orations.

"The Constitution, Our Citadel of Freedom," is the title of the orations that Miss Bishop and Nuslein and Watson will deliver.

The program will open with Kellar Bella's "Lustspiel Overture," played by the Santa Ana high school band, directed by S. J. Mustel. Following the orations of Miss Lucas and Harper, the Boys' Glee club of the high school will sing, "To Thee, O Country." The Bishop and Richards oration will follow and then will ensue two musical numbers by the high school boys' quartette, "Lucky Jim" and "Go Ask Papa." Nuslein and Watson will then deliver their orations, following which the high school mixed chorus, assisted by Miss Geraldine Rodriguez, will sing "Carmena Waltz."

To Direct Chorus. Miss Margaret Wickes, head of the Santa Ana high school music department, will direct the latter feature.

Information received here from Los Angeles was to the effect that with the holding of the contest for the Imperial valley high schools at El Centro tomorrow night and in the Los Angeles high school Monday, the winners in all of the thirty-six districts will have been determined.

Thirty-six district winners, each of whom is already assured an award of $50, will compete among themselves in groups of six each in the semi-finals with the school units represented as follows:

Group A. City of San Diego, county of San Diego, Imperial county, Orange county, San Bernardino county and Riverside county. Contest at Riverside April 24.

Group B. Kern, Santa Barbara, Tulare, Fresno and Ventura counties and Long Beach. Contest at Bakersfield, April 24.

Group C. Santa Monica, Redondo, Venice, Inglewood, Compton and Burbank. Contest at Santa Monica, April 27.

Group D. Pasadena, Alhambra, Pomona, Whittier, Monrovia, Glendale and Vicinities. Contest at Pasadena, April 27.

Group E. High schools in this city: Hollywood, Jefferson, San Fernando, Virgil and Franklin, and the Spanish American Institute and Loyola College High School. Contest Hollywood High School auditorium, April 27.

Group F. High schools in this city: Los Angeles, Manual Arts, Lincoln, Part Time, Polytechnic, Sentous, John Muir, Thirtieth Street, Los Comptos and McKinley. Contest Los Angeles High School auditorium, 27th inst.

Plan Final Contest. The grand final contest will be held in Bovard auditorium, University of Southern California, the evening of May 11. The six contestants on the program at that time will be those who have won in each of the semi-final group contests referred to above.

The district winners as reported up to last night are as follows: Alhambra, Laurence White; county of San Diego, Viola Tatum; Santa Barbara, Rosebrough Vaughn; Inglewood, Mary Buchanan; Glendale, Margaret Majors; Manual Arts, George Lewis; Hollywood, Albert Slocum.

Contests were to be held in the high schools of Los Angeles today as follows: Franklin, 10:30 a. m.; Lincoln, 11 a. m.; Jefferson, 1:45 p. m.; Polytechnic, 1:30 p. m.; Virgil, 2 p. m.; McKinley, 7:30 p. m.; Sentous, 7:30 p. m.; Columbus Auditorium, (Loyola vs. Spanish-American Institute) 7:30 p. m.

Contests outside of Los Angeles to be held tonight in addition to the one in Santa Ana include those in San Bernardino, Riverside, Bakersfield, Porterville, Fresno, Ventura, Long Beach, Santa Monica, Venice, Burbank, Pomona, Whittier, Monrovia and San Fernando.

BIG BATTLE ON MICROBE ARMY SUCCEEDING IN COUNTY

Health Officials Winning Grapple to Make Area More Healthful

STATISTICS GIVEN

Public Co-operation In Work Increases, Authorities Declare

Perhaps you didn't know that there is a war in progress in Orange county; a war waged between an army on one hand and a mere handful of valiant fighters on the other.

And what's more, the tiny group is winning. That's the romance of this story, gleaned from the monthly reports of work done by county health officials, under the direction of Dr. W. Leland Mitchell, during the first quarter of 1923, to annihilate virtually untold hosts of—germs.

They're just bare statistics—these reports, but behind them is the story of a struggle to make Orange county an even safer and more healthful place in which to live. That's why there's a newspaper story in these figures—that and the fact that it is only just that Orange county folk should know what a vast amount of work is being done by Mitchell, Deputy County Health Officer W. W. Chandler, and County Nurses Isabel Durgan and Florence Ames.

Wage Firm War
During the three months just ended, the health force directed a strenuous attack against contagious diseases—including in the list which physicians must report, in January 33 cases were reported; in February 123; and in March 178.

These figures do not indicate, necessarily, an increase in the number of cases, but rather a greater desire to co-operate upon the part of persons reporting them, it was pointed out.

However, influenza has been on the increase so far this year, the tables showed. Whereas in January, seven cases were reported, in February there were 31, and in March 60. None have been severe in nature, and utmost precautions have been taken, Mitchell said, to prevent a large epidemic.

Measles Cause Worry
Measles have caused the health representatives a lot of worry, it was shown. In January, 4 cases were reported. The next month the figure was 64, and in March it was 98. The increase was due to a mild epidemic in the schools, it was said, and was not at all dangerous.

Whenever contagious cases, such as require a quarantine, are reported, confinement measures are taken promptly, Mitchell declared. During January there were 10 quarantines; in February 16, and in March 14. The quarantine measures were taken only against diph-

The great American game.

Baseball?
Well yes, but how about golf?
Even the high school students have it.

And the latest is—
That there seems to be every indication that the fine points of chasing the little white ball all around the lot will become the last word in Santa Ana high school activity when school opens for the fall semester.

"A class in golf appears to me to be an excellent idea," Principal D. K. Hammond, said. "There is no reason why a working knowledge of the game cannot be given to every student who desires it."

Rooters Exercise, Too
The old days of sitting on the bleachers and watching the schools' athletic contests in peace and comfort may pass away, for if the local high school has a golf team which travels to Long Beach or to San Diego for a golf tournament, the rooting section will have to go tramping over the course after the team.

Here is what some of the school leaders think about it from a student's point of view:

Miss Ruth Finley, athletic representative on the Girls' league cabinet, said:

"I believe the plan to introduce golf is a fine idea. There are many students who are interested in learning how to play the game who would have no other oppor-

GAIN BARED IN CRIME CASES IN COUNTY

69 Per Cent Increase Is Noted In 30-Day Period Compared With 1922

Lending support to the assertions regarding the remarkable growth of Orange county during the past year, were figures and comparisons gleaned from the records at the district attorney's office today.

For where there are many people, there is bound to be an increase in crime, authorities stated. During the past month, from March 14 to April 13, 331 complaints were issued through the prosecutor's office. This figure was 69 per cent greater than that in the same period in 1922, when only 195 complaints were issued, a comparison showed.

Tabulations disclosed that the increase was not caused by serious crimes, however. In the 1922 period, there were complaints issued for 23 felonies; last month only 25 felony complaints were issued.

Include Many Crimes
Felonies include statutory crimes, grand larceny, fictitious check writing, robbery, burglary, drunken driving and other crimes of a serious nature.

The passage of the Wright act caused new classifications, 13 offenses against the new prohibition law being recorded. These were listed as high misdemeanors.

Misdemeanors, including disturbing the peace, battery, motor traffic violations, and, in fact, numerous other infractions of the law, virtually filled the books.

For instance, in the 30-day period in 1922, there were 167 misdemeanor warrants secured, during the past 30 days the figures reached 290.

Insanity Shows Gain
Insanity in Orange county showed a slight increase over last year, as five complaints were issued during March, 1923, as against only 3 in the same period of 1922.

The large increase in the number of misdemeanor cases was due, it was believed, to the activity of the motorcycle officers, whose arrests formed the major portion of that total both years.

This belief was borne out by the fact that fines collected by Justice J. B. Cox reached an unprecedented sum during that period.

CHINESE LEARN TO EAT FOREIGN MEAT

PEKIN, April 13.—Argentina, is giving Australia a run for her money in supplying China and the Far East with frozen meat. While the Chinese have in the past preferred the taste and smell of fresh killed meat, they are gradually being educated to eat the frozen variety, says Consul General Thomas Sammons, Melbourne. There is a general belief that they will ultimately become accustomed to using frozen meat freely. Australian butter is selling well in China and Japan, while canned fruits and jams from the island continent are being taken in increasing quantities.

WHERE'S TALL MAN WHO TOOK CITY FLAGS?

Impenetrable Blanket of Mystery Surrounds Vanished Bunting

Santa Ana's patriotic decorations are lost, stolen, or strayed.

In newspaper parlance, an impenetrable blanket of mystery surrounds the disappearance of this city's colorful holiday bunting.

E. W. Dahl, city street superintendent, admitted that the flags and bunting were officially in charge of his department.

"The flags and other street decorations were stored in the American Legion hall," Dahl said, "following last year's county fair. This was done because the street department's buildings were damp and musty and would have ruined any cloth materials stored there."

"Following the State Realtors' convention here, the janitor at the American Legion hall said a tall man in a gray suit came to the hall and carried away the city flags."

Tall Man Mentioned
"The janitor said the caller posed as a city employee. We have not seen the flags since then. Who the tall man in a gray suit was, we don't know."

Who was the man in gray? Suspicion centered, it was reported, on Horace Fine, automobile editor of The Register, and E. L. Vegely, city clerk. Both men were above average height and incline toward gray suitings, it was said.

But, however, to Fine's open countenance and Vegely's impeccable reputation as a pinhole player the charges were given but slight consideration.

J. C. Wallace, secretary of the Santa Ana Realty board, waxed explosive when questioned as to the flags.

"The Santa Ana Realty board," he ejaculated, "hired a Los Angeles exposition company to decorate the city during the convention here. We did not beg, borrow or steal the city's flags."

The problem that puzzled Clyde C. Whitney, adjutant of the Santa Ana post of the American Legion, he said, was "who would want to steal a bunch of flags?"

Incomprehensible
"I did not know anything about the matter," he said, "until City Marshal Claude Rogers asked me what I knew of the flag episode. Our janitor gave the flags, as he thought, to a responsible party. He did not think that anyone would want to steal a bunch of flags."

City Marshal Rogers admitted that the mystery was taxing the powers of the police department for solution. Sheriff Sam Jernigan, who was city marshal at the time the flags were purchased, declared that he was under the impression that each flag carried a mark of identification.

J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and manager of last year's county fair, said he considered the incident another example of the need here of a city manager.

"Under the city manager form of civic government," Metzgar said, "such departmental matters would be under supervision. The flags and their disappearance give a good illustration of the principle involved in such matters."

PLAN $150,000 TERMINAL FOR TRUCK LINE

While withholding the location of the site for which it has contracted, the Richards Trucking and Warehouse company of Los Angeles today announced here that it has made definite plans for erecting a $150,000 fireproof warehouse and trucking terminal in Santa Ana.

This company, it was pointed out, is the outgrowth of the Richards Motor Express company, which began business in a humble way in Los Angeles eleven years ago. It was stated that the company now owns in Los Angeles one of the best warehouse locations in the city.

The company, for years, has been running a line into Santa Ana, making deliveries to local merchants. It is now proposed to build a warehouse here and make Santa Ana a distributing point for this county.

In love with the part.

With this admission does Gladys Simpson Shafer, talented young actress of this city, confide her feeling in being cast as the impetuous and altogether lovable Annabelle in "Good Gracious Annabelle," the comedy to be presented at the Temple theater here four nights, beginning Monday night, by the Santa Ana Community Players.

Mrs. Shafer's attachment to the role came after hours of study and practice and according to those who have been in a position to watch rehearsals for the production, her histrionic talent has never shown to better advantage than in this newest effort of the local player folk.

From tragedy, as Katherine More in "The Mob," through fantasy, as Plorette, in "The Maker of Dreams," to comedy as Annabelle, in "Good Gracious Annabelle," Mrs. Shafer has run the gamut of emotional acting.

But local patrons who saw and applauded her skill in the two previous productions will see even a finer actress when the curtain goes up next Monday night, members of the play cast unanimously have declared.

"Annabelle: Banks are so irritable at times."

"Ethel: But dear, if a check is protested that means you haven't

FIRST UNIT OF NEW JUVENILE HOME TO BE READY SOON FORECAST

Architect Is Selected to Draw Plans for $25,000 Building Here

TO SPEED WORK

Will Provide for Additions As They May Be Needed In Future

With Frederick H. Eley selected to draw the plans for the new structure, and with indications that the building would be completed by summer or early fall, preparations today were being made by S. H. Finley, representing the board of supervisors, to speed the work of those interested in the erection of the Orange County juvenile home, which will be situated on Fruit street near Grand avenue.

"It is hoped," said Finley, "that the work will progress so rapidly that we will be able to make use of the first unit late next summer. This unit, to cost about $25,000, will include the general administration building, the kitchen, dining room and sleeping quarters."

Provide For Additions
"Our aim is to construct this unit in such a manner that additions may be made as occasion arises."

"In this building we hope to place the more youthful, or early offenders, leaving the present juvenile home for the care of girls for another year or so."

"In the new home we hope to supply adequate school facilities for all the children, through the medium of a plan which we hope to work out with the school authorities."

Tells Work Planned
In this connection it was said by R. R. Miller, Orange county probation officer, that every effort will be made in the new home to "save boys and girls from themselves." "By this," said Miller, "I mean that we will concentrate our energies in an effort to inculcate in the hearts of the boys and girls who come to us the basic principles of honor and common decency."

"Instead of tearing down, we will endeavor to build up. We hope to solve the boy and girl problem by education and active co-operation."

10,000 TONS OF POWDER APPLIED

NEW YORK, April 13.—The flapper who powdered her nose at 11:59 New Year's eve made it just an even 10,000 tons of powder—to the very dab—that American women used up last year.

This figure—being singular—emanates from the United States department of commerce. The commerce department also said the average per capita ration of camouflage for the year was slightly more than eight ounces, there being about 34,000,000 women in the country between the ages of 15 and reticence.

SEEK CLOTHING FOR STUDENTS IN RUSSIA

col. "A committee has been appointed which includes W. H. Spurgeon Jr., John A. Henderson and Nat H. Neff, to direct the gathering in of the local contributions for this cause.

"While the famine situation in Russia is less acute than in former years, according to recent reports of the American Relief Administration, there is still a lack of clothing, and this is causing great distress in the schools and colleges. In Petrograd, it is reported that the university students have so few clothes that one marvels at their persistence and courage in following their studies. Some have not had a new suit or overcoat in five years. There is an average of one overcoat to ten students.

"Russia is in need of college-trained men and women. The immediate future demands doctors, engineers, agricultural experts and teachers to lead in bettering living conditions following the famine of recent years.

"Four-fifths of the students in the colleges of Russia today are training themselves in these professions, and under present conditions they are hopelessly unable to purchase adequate clothing. A full equipment of clothes for one person cost more than one billion rubles, while the average salary of a university teacher is not more than 150 million rubles a month, and students, of course, earn still less. This makes it virtually impossible for these men to provide themselves with even the most essential clothing.

"To help meet this need, the Y. M. C. A. asks for your cast-off clothing. Suits, overcoats, shoes, underwear, shirts, which are not quite appropriate for American wear, but which may still be used another season, are what is needed. Women's clothing can also be used. People who will be able to contribute to this worthy cause are requested to look over their storage closets and select what they can give. The collection of the clothing will be made next week."

tunity other than at school."

Girl Athlete Enthused
One of the most enthusiastic girl athletes the school has ever had, Miss Thelma Patton, said: "Great! Best idea for a long time. Everyone wants to know how to play golf, anyway. My father has been coaching me and I think the game is fine fun. I know it would go big at high school as a regular branch of athletics."

"It will be necessary to sell the idea to the students to a certain extent, but I think there are many boys and girls interested in learning the fundamentals of golf which easily could be taught in the athletic department at the school," said Miss Constance Crookshank, ex-president of the Girls' league.

Has New Idea of Game
"I used to think golf was a silly game, only for fat people, and terribly slow," said Miss Kathleen Trago, president of the Girls' league. "But since I have learned something about it I think it is one of the best sports of all. It is a game that everyone can play and it doesn't require so much team play as many of our sports. I'm heartily in favor of adding golf to school athletics."

Nor does support for the "cow pasture pool" pasture rest alone with the gentler sex.
No less a personage than Marvin ("Spud") Morrison, hero of many a hectic tussle on the grid and now head of the athletic department, declared his belief that golf would do much for the local athletic situation.

"There is a large class of students who benefit very much from a golf class," Morrison declared. "I do not believe that it would detract from other athletics because a different crowd of students would be attracted by golf. For example, the boys who are interested in tennis are not the football players, the track men are not the baseball men, and so on."

Morrison said that a number of boys already had indicated their interest in the game, that no difficulty in arranging for practice holes on the athletic field and for instruction.

Miss Nellie Wilson, girls' athletic coach, fears that other and more important sports will suffer if golf instruction is adopted.

"No doubt golf is a vigorous and healthful exercise," Miss Wilson said, "but I am opposed to having it added to our school as a regular course of study. Other activities will suffer and we can not afford to allow that to happen. I do not think many students of the high school age fully appreciate the game. Many may sign up for it just to catch the idea, but without a regulation course I am afraid the interest would be brief."

Local business men who keep a close touch on the high school athletic situation agree that golf classes here would be very beneficial.

"Many parents are keenly interested in the game," said Victor Walker, local sporting goods dealer, "and the youngsters naturally are anxious to learn to play as well. Holes and a putting green could be arranged on the athletic field with very little expense where the students could practice driving, approach shots and putting right at the school under the direction of one of the athletic coaches."

any more money in the bank. "Annabelle: That's ridiculous. I've put far more than I've ever taken out.

"Ethel: Don't you keep your account checked up?"

"Annabelle: No, it doesn't make it any more to do that. I just have a general idea about it. It's so hard to pay your bills when the checks come right back. I never had a cashier in any bank that adds the same way I do—and Oh, you can't imagine the desperation of a woman alone in a room with an unbalanced bank account."

RADIO FOLK OF S. A. LAUNCH NEW CLUB

Next!

Santa Ana has a radio club.

It was formed last night at the home of Rex Hoover, a high school student, 421 East Walnut street.

Its members were all ago today over another meeting of the organization, to be held at the same address tomorrow at 7:30 p. m., when efforts will be made to enlist additional members and when G. E. Knudsen, Los Angeles, president, will give a talk.

E. W. Lippincott is vice president, Hoover secretary and Charles A. Hanson treasurer.

Membership is open to any person who may be interested in either broadcasting or amateur radio activities, it was announced.

The club plans to conduct a broadcasting station in conjunction with an experimental laboratory where work will be done as desired by any member.

A library of radio books will be established.

The members are said to be enthusiastic over the possibilities of the club.

Headquarters will be at 630 North Parton street. There, a large radio set, which has already been ordered, will be installed.

The club expects to be "on the air" inside of three months.

Orange County Country club, thinks that the addition of golf to the high school athletic department would be an excellent thing.

"Golf is a game that two can play, where a team game is impossible except in the school years. It is a game, the knowledge of which will be a pleasure for a lifetime. Golf is not an old man's game by any means. It can not be learned any too early."

BIG BATTLE ON MICROBE ARMY SUCCEEDING

theria, scarlet fever, four cases of smallpox and three cases of typhoid fever.

Rabies Dies Out

Rabies has virtually died out in Orange county, it was shown. One case of human rabies has been reported since January 1. This man, who died at the county hospital, contracted the disease in San Fernando. During January, four tests of dogs' heads were made; 3 in February, and none in March.

A strong attack has been directed against unsanitary conditions in private premises, especially in Mexican districts. During January, Inspector Chandler visited 196 premises; in February, 498; and in March 296. As a result of an intensive campaign, improvement is evident in the Mexican settlements, Mitchell said.

Miss Ames, in charge of school visits, inspected 33 schools each during January and February, and 40 in March.

Miss Duran, dairy inspector, investigated conditions in 92 dairies in January, 60 in February, and 77 during the month just past.

All of the foregoing figures include only areas outside of incorporated cities, Mitchell pointed out.

And still the battle continues. There is no let-up, according to the physician. Once effort is relaxed, the millions of units in the microbe army will figuratively shout with glee, as they take up their deadly work again.

BEER SO 'NEAR' IT BLINDED HIM, SAYS MAN IN BIG SUIT

AKRON, Ohio, April 13.—Jacob Berger, Akron café owner, started suit in the common pleas court asking $50,950 for the loss of one eye, which he says was blinded when a cork flew out of the bung of a barrel of near beer he had purchased from a brewery concern.

Berger is attempting to collect from the brewing concern on the allegation that when the barrel of near beer was sold to him, a package of yeast was sent along with it to his saloon. He charges that he was advised that if he would put the yeast in the near beer it might turn into something akin to the pre-Volstead brew.

WOMAN COLLECTOR HAS UNIQUE HOBBY

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 13.—

One of the most unique picture galleries in the world has been discovered here.

This collection of fifty-eight paintings, the work of 49 of the best artists of today, is owned by Miss Margaret T. Buckner, whose father, Samuel O. Buckner, a prominent business man here, has for 25 years collected paintings and now has a gallery of more than 100 paintings of considerable value.

What makes the collection of Miss Buckner's unique is the fact that each painting was presented to her by the artist and signed.

"My father being a great lover of art and a collector of paintings, was naturally known to many of the famous artists," Miss Buckner said. "One day Aston Knight, American painter, came to Milwaukee. Father invited him up to dine. While seated at the table, Mr. Knight asked me to get him a small piece of cardboard and he would paint me a picture."

"When I brought it to him, Mr. Knight took from his watch fob a miniature set of brushes and water color paints. Using the finger bowl, he painted a Dutch landscape-marine, the first of my collection.

"After having completed the small painting and seeing how it pleased me, he suggested to my father that a collection of small paintings be started for me similar to one he had just finished. He said my father, being a lover of art and well known to artists, would have little trouble getting co-operation.

"Sure enough. When the artists heard of this collection they were not slow in sending in their contributions, autographing every painting.

"My collection started to grow, and soon I began to realize, that I, like my father, had a gallery all of my own. Although I have never done any painting myself, I love these pictures as no artist could love them. Everyone of the paintings has been painted especially for me and I doubt whether there ever was or ever will be such a collection as mine."

CROWDS STORM BIG REVIVAL MEET HERE

Indicative of the keen interest shown here in the revival services conducted in the Big Tent by LeGrand and Howe, scores of persons were turned away from the tent last night, according to the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, here, today.

"We had arranged for eleven hundred seats," said the Rev. Mr. Porter, "but we found that they were wholly inadequate. Many were turned away. Today we are making arrangements to install four hundred additional seats."

"In last night's audience were many who came from distant points, including Whittier, Brea, Huntington Beach, Anaheim, Fullerton and other cities."

Music Big Feature.
"Excellent music featured the meeting in the big tent, the thrilling bird solos of Mr. Howe thrilling the big gathering. He is a whistler par excellence."

"The basis of last night's sermon by the Rev. Mr. LeGrand was Christ's ministry and the far-reaching effects of his teachings. Among other things he said:

"When Christ came He looked upon a world of slavery. One-half the population was shackled. Rome, with a population of 550,000, had 400,000 slaves."

"Beasts were loosed in the arena to fight with men. Life was the cheapest thing on earth."

Gospel Brings New Life.
"But Christ, reading aright the minds of men, gave a commission to go and preach the gospel—not to a group of preachers, but to all His disciples. And today, wherever that gospel is preached a new life comes into being."

"Christians have been ringing church bells when they should have been ringing door bells."

The meetings in the big tent, Third and Birch streets, will continue for several weeks. The Rev. John H. LeGrand, in charge of the services, is a nationally-known revivalist.

REV. PAUL E. WRIGHT TAKES FLYER IN OIL

Santa Ana and Orange county friends of the Rev. Paul E. Wright, former pastor of the First Christian church here, were extending the glad hand to this popular minister here today upon the occasion of his return to Santa Ana for a brief stay.

The Rev. Mr. Wright, who is pastor of the First Christian church of Ontario, is in this city in the interests of an oil proposition on Signal Hill.

"No, I have not given up the pulpit," said the Rev. Mr. Wright, discussing his brief stay here, "but will remain only long enough to interest local people in our Signal Hill holdings. We have an acre of ground here, with excellent possibilities, and are making every effort to develop the property and bring in a well. I will have an office in the Sycamore building here for the next week or so."

The Rev. Mr. Wright was formerly probation officer of this county.

ENTERTAIN MEMBERS OF SUNDAY SCHOOL

TUSTIN, April 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Hanson of Santa Ana entertained this week their respective Sunday school classes of the Advent Christian church at their home on Orange avenue. Those present were Rev. William Snider, Marian Snider, Juanita Sears, Dorothy Wiese, Luella Sears, June Forney, Lucille Betz, Leola Sears, Virginia Forney, Luella Holford, Ida Spicer, Addie Trickay, Grace Squires, Lyle Forney, Ray Wiese, Errol Hunt, John Page, Clara Hanson, Charles Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Marks, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Hanson and Lewis Hanson.

ASSERTED LEADER OF I. W. W. SEIZED

Ralph Holcott, declared to be a member of the national committee of the Industrial Workers of the World, was in the county jail today facing charges of violating the criminal syndicalism act.

And with his arrest, by City Marshal Jack Tinsley and Officer Roy Ballard of Huntington Beach yesterday, the war against the asserted radical element at the beach city continued to grow in importance.

Holcott is one of the powers in the I. W. organization in the United States, according to authorities. His arrest followed an attempt on the part of Dennis Crowley, in jail on sabotage charges, to secure his assistance. A letter sent from the jail to Holcott was traced to its destination, and Holcott was arrested.

He was to be arraigned before Justice J. B. Cox today.

$50 APARTMENT FOR HEIRESS AND HUBBY

CHICAGO, April 12.—Spick and span, a flat on "Main street" in the village of St. Charles, Ill., was waiting today for the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Norris, married recently in Pasadena, Calif. The rent will be $50 a month. Mrs. Norris, now the wife of the son of the village undertaker, was formerly Delfora Angell. She is heiress to the $38,000,000 estate of John W. "Beta-Million" Gates.

GIRL, 13, IS SOUGHT
LYNN, Mass., April 12.—Police are searching for 13-year-old Doris Wilson in connection with the branding of 34-year-old William Smith. The missing girl had acted as a nurse for the child until shortly before his mother, Mrs. William Smith, found the letters "E. B." branded on his thigh.

TRAVEL INCREASES
WINNIPEG, Manitoba, April 12.—Almost three times the number of passengers were brought to Winnipeg and the prairies from the old country by the Canadian Pacific railroad during the first three weeks of March, compared with February, according to an announcement of the passenger department here.

Among the Eskimos, "conjurers," who have had a special training and may be of either sex, wield a great influence.
About one-fourth of the women teachers in London elementary schools are married.
London, England, uses 300,000,000 gallons of water daily.

CAREY'S FILMS DEVOID OF CHEAP SEX THEMES
It is safe to say that no star of the cinema guards his productions more vigilantly against vulgarity and cheap sex themes than Harry Carey, whose latest Western vehicle "Good men and True" is now showing at the Princess theater.

Carey believes that the screen is primarily for entertainment. Moreover, he believes that there is no entertainment in sex and that there is no place whatever for it on the screen. Therefore all of his productions are scrupulously clean—the more so because he watches over them with an ever vigilant eye.

"The public wants good, clean, wholesome entertainment. And that is the only kind I ever gave them," Carey said. "I cannot condemn too forcibly the producer who panders to the lower tastes of the unthinkable people who prefer sex stories to wholesome tales of clean romance and adventure."

WEST END THEATER

In his latest Fox production, "Boss of Camp Four," which opened today at the West End theater, Charles Jones makes a flying tackle that rivals the most spectacular play ever seen on a football field.

The incident occurs when some ponderous rocks start rolling downhill. Fritz Brunette, playing the leading feminine part, comes directly in the path of the boulders. Unaware of the danger that approaches her, she continues her walk. Jones, in the character of Chet Fanning, sees the huge stones bounding down toward the girl.

He leaps at her, drags her to the shelter of an overhanging wall, and saves her from destruction. The realism of this scene will be appreciated when it is explained that in a rehearsal of the scene, a horse accidentally struck by one of the boulders, was instantly killed.

PORTER STRONG IN CAST OF
"ONE EXCITING NIGHT"

Porter Strong, the humorous and beloved Romeo Washington of the new D. W. Griffith picture, "One Exciting Night," now showing at the Temple theater, literally started at the foot of the ladder in "medicine shows," went up a peg to minstrelsy and finally blossomed forth in a "singing waiter" in far Western cafes where the attendants were supposed to deliver the goods both in song and bodily refreshment.

He became known as the country's best "coon shouter" and coming East won first prize at a great public coon-shouting contest in Madison Square Garden, New York. His associates at that time were chaps who afterward became famous under the names of Irving Berlin and Al Jolson.

At the peak of his success as cabaret entertainer Strong's annual income ranged from $15,000 to $30,000 a year. Griffith claims he engaged Strong on the latter's first visit to Hollywood because Porter stuttered so that no one could make head or tail of what he was saying, and the comic thus proved his fitness for the job by his grimaces in trying to get application for work out of his system.

He is a native of St. Joseph, Mo., and his earlier life story is a romance that somebody is some day going to put into a book.

WILLIAM FARNUM PHOTOPLAY
AT YOST TONIGHT.

Drama and William Farnum—There is a combination that becomes stronger with every picture in which the Fox star appears. His latest, "Brass Commandments" will be shown at the Yost theater for two days starting tonight. It is a story of the West, done in the breezy style of Charles Alden Seltzer, popular for his narratives of outdoor action.

Wouldn't you have been sorry for her. Everyone else was.

Particularly when it wasn't at all her fault that Mrs. Murchison chose to name her as Harry's flame.

He was thrown backward off a horse, striking the ground on his head and shoulders. A vertebrae in the neck was dislocated by the fall. Immediately after his arrival at the hospital Drs. Walker and W. ## Y WORKER TO TALK AT BOYS' MEETING

Songs, stories and the adventures of George Bleason, "Y" worker, who spent many years in Japan, are programmed for the entertainment of the county Hi Y boys at the dinner to be given at the First Christian church here Monday at 6:30 p. m. T. P. McKee, community secretary of the S. A. Y., announced today.

One hundred boys are expected to attend the dinner, coming in delegations from Orange, Fullerton, Anaheim, Tustin and Garden Grove. The Santa Ana Hi Y club will be host. Women of the First Christian church will serve the dinner.

"The boys are looking forward to a good time," McKee said. "George Bleason is known wherever there is a Y. M. C. A. unit, and his talks about his travels are well worth hearing."

NEW PUMP AT CITY PLANT SOON READY

Installation of a new booster pump with a capacity of 1500 gallons a minute at the Santa Ana municipal water works was being completed today, according to Walter Wray, city water superintendent.

Ground capacity of the pumps now in operation has been 7000 gallons a minute, Wray said, commenting on his reason for acquiring the new booster pump in order to build up an auxiliary pumping unit.

"Installation of the new pump has caused considerable remodeling of equipment at the water plant," he said. "The electricians now are engaged in changing equipment there from 120 horsepower to 245 horsepower to accommodate the new pump. The pump probably will be ready for operation within the next few days."

POLY WINE LEAVES FOR SOUTHERN CITY

Santa Ana Baseballers To Face Crack San Diego Team Tomorrow

Primed to face what probably will be their strongest antagonists of the season, thirteen members of the Santa Ana high school baseball team, accompanied by Head Coach "Spud" Morrison, Coach Orin Neff, and Manager Albert Sheehan, left here this afternoon for San Diego where tomorrow afternoon they will clash in the stadium there with the Hilltop high school nine.

The players who made the jaunt were Captain Ted Coffman, Roy Le Bard, Earl Jabs, "Red" Bickford, Bill Luck, Leland Finley, "Chick" Brown, "Beano" Golden, Fred Howell, Eddie Linsbard, Lorraine Bowe, "Buddy" Williamson and Able Johnson.

With virtually the same lineup as that which last season downed Toledo, Ohio, high school for the national interscholastic title, the Santa Ana aggregation is touted to annex the Southern California gonfalon again this season without difficulty. The Southerners already have smothered such teams as Hollywood, Manual Arts, Jefferson and Gardena.

The Poly cohorts are in good shape and Coach Neff believes his men will be able to give the border city club a tussle for the full route. Neff probably will start his pitching ace, Le Bard, on the slab. The little football star has shown great form all year and if he has a little support from his teammates might be able to stop the San Diego winning streak.

A "bye" in the Orange league schedule enabled the Santa Anas to trek to the south. Anaheim will play at Garden Grove this afternoon. Fullerton at San Juan Capistrano, Whittier at Huntington Beach and Tustin at Orange.

The probable lineup for the Santa Ana-San Diego melee follows:

| Santa Ana | Pos. | San Diego |
|-----------|------|-----------|
| Le Bard   | P    | Nemchek   |
| Coffman   | C    | Gibson    |
| Jabs      | 1b   | McKain    |
| Bickford  | 2b   | Hartley   |
| Finley    | 3b   | Caballero |
| Luck      | SS   | Johnson   |
| Brown     | LF   | Galindo   |
| Golden    | CF   | Kellar    |
| Howell    | RF   | Langford  |

Hunting in Alaska

(The articles appearing in The Register were written by George Briggs, well known Santa Ana sportsman, while he was on his fifth trip. In 1920, to the far north. Mr. Briggs has just left Santa Ana for his sixth hunting trip to Alaska.)

CHAPTER 2

2 p. m. Sunday—The coast range shows a white-cap along its crest, an evidence we are getting north, and the wind is getting perceptibly colder. The sea is pretty rough and quite a few are sick. The Rose City, a faster boat (Sports) than ours, that left port an hour ahead of us, is passed a couple hundred yards to starboard, bucking a heavy head sea. We must be loaded about right to outlast her and besides, while not a big boat, the Queen seems to like the rough stuff and behaves splendidly.

Monday found me up about the usual time and I was glad to note the promise of a wonderful day. The sea had gone down during the night, with patches of blue sky to the north and a breeze from the westward. It is getting a little colder all the time.

Lose Blue Sky
Afternoon—We have lost the blue sky in the shuffle somehow, have taken on a long, heavy roll, quivering and run into a squally west wind. No land in sight for some hours. I note we are just passing to starboard, a two-masted fishing schooner, the two men with oil skins and southwesterers are hauling aboard fish I take to be cod, so they are probably on a bank, and somehow I imagine off the mouth of the Columbia.

Tuesday morning—When I went on deck a little before 7 we were just leaving Umatilla Reef astern, were off Cape Flattery and rounding into the Sound. What a glorious day to be aboard ship—a smooth sea, with hardly a cloud in sight, and the breeze with a bite in it that made you feel good.

Recalls Bear Hunt
I remember such a day as this some years past when I had made my first bear hunt out of Juneau. I was aboard the old Dolphin, (Capt. McGregor) and with a passenger list of less than a dozen, we were to dock at Seattle late in the afternoon.

I had lived in Southern California, where exceptions to grand and perfect days for the year, can be counted on the fingers of one hand, but that day on Puget Sound stamps itself on my memory as being the most wonderful I ever experienced, and I recall the view that unfolded itself before me. The ragged shore line, green to the water's edge, with beyond Mt. Baker rising its hoary white head into the clouds like a snow sentinel. Now the Olympic range unfolding before me, white and glorious.

Follows Bloody Trail.
I had hunted my first elk there (since protected by President Roosevelt) and remembered them well, the exultation I felt when I put the rifle head where it would do the most good, the thud of the bullet, the stagger of the noble beast, the bloody trail through the snow and my remorse, hours later, when we were forced to the conclusion that the wound was not fatal or that he would at least travel too far to be found. A full

LEW WALLACE TOPS QUALIFYING ROUND IN GOLF CLUB PLAY

Having turned in a nifty 79 for the eighteen holes, Lew ("Harbor") Wallace, president of the First National bank of Newport Beach, today topped the players who thus far have qualified for the championship flight of the Orange County Country club.

Wallace was just one stroke lower than A. C. Twist of Santa Ana. C. D. Holmes was third with an 81. F. B. Brown, F. E. Farnsworth and Homer Robinson pulled in with 83's, just one stroke better than A. W. Rutan. Bob Reid took 83, George Jeffrey 88, J. W. Tubbs 91 and E. J. Chambers and L. M. Forcey 96.

C. G. Twist, president of the club, announced that tomorrow will be the last day in which any qualifying will be allowed. Thereafter the matches will begin and games must be played as scheduled.

PADDOCK'S TRIP TO FRANCE IS BANNED

NEW YORK, April 13.—More trouble for Charlie Paddock, the fastest human, who has had a rather hectic experience with the athletic governing bodies, loomed up today when the A. A. U. international affairs committee announced that he could not go to France to compete in the University of Paris games.

Paddock, with the sanction of the Southern Pacific association of the A. A. U. and a commission from the University of Southern California, is now on his way to New York to take the boat for Paris and if he carries out his announced plans of sailing in spite of the ban, the A. A. U. may be split wide open.

Feeling between the Southern Pacific association and the national body reached a fever stage when the big A. A. U. committee refused to accept Paddock's many records, which were vouched for by his sectional association, and it is probable that the California governors will stand back of the star sprinter in his decision to go to Paris regardless of the ban that have been raised against him.

S. A. EDISONS BEGIN LEAGUE NEXT WEEK

Whittier, Vernon Teams To Mingle at Poly Field Here Tomorrow

With the Whittier and Vernon Edisons scheduled to open up their league baseball seasons at Poly field tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock as an extra attraction for the "high-jinks" of the company's local employees and the Santa Ana team preparing to begin its league tilts a week from Saturday, athletes of the Southern California Edisons here were beginning to perk up their ears today.

The Whittier-Vernon fray will be held here to stir up additional interest in the night "high-jinks." As both teams are exceptionally fast a large crowd is expected to be on hand for the excitement.

The Santa Ana "Edisons" will open their season in the Southern California Edison league April 21. The local men grabbed the league title last year and with a strong list of players back in the fold many believe they have a good chance to repeat.

Hillard ("Toughy") Tyrrell, awaiting word from several eastern clubs where the Angels of the Coast league hope to "farm" him, has gone back to his job with the Edisons and may be on hand for most of the tilts this year. He will probably do the catching although he may be shifted to an infield position if big Carl Stevens, the former Tacoma backstop, returns to work here instead of continuing with the Standard Oil's at Huntington Beach.

Ed Cutting, the sensational Sacramento first baseman who had a tryout with the Angels this year, has been endeavoring to land a job with the local Edisons and if he succeeds will be a great help to the team.

Barry McPhee's pitching is all that any club could ask for the big fellow bears down relentlessly. Johnny Arambel, the Irvine outfielder, can be shifted almost anywhere and fill in well. He is a great hitter and a splendid fielder. "Jug" Walters also is a versatile player and could be used to advantage at first, second or third.

Maloney, who played with the Buick Auto team at Detroit for two seasons, has strengthened the locals. Other good men are Benedict, Gallagher, Charlie Nelson, Bodenhamer, "Melly" Le Mar and Colyar.

Los Angeles Woman Tells of Wonderful Experience

MRS. GUSSIE E. HANSEN

Mrs. Gussie E. Hansen, of 916 West 52nd Street, is now numbered with the multitude of Los Angeles men and women who have realized the wonderful merits of Tanlac. In relating her experience, Mrs. Hansen said:

"It is wonderful what Tanlac will do for one suffering from stomach trouble, nervousness and a run-down condition. I have tried it and know from experience."

"Before taking the treatment everything I ate disagreed with me so that I had terrible gas pains after every meal, and got where I just dreaded to sit down to the table. I suffered from constipation also. I had awful pains across my back, and was so nervous and run-down I was in misery all the time."

"Tanlac was helping so many others here in Los Angeles that I thought it might help me, too, and it certainly has. Why, my appetite is just splendid since taking the treatment, and my stomach is in such good order I eat to my heart's content. My back does not bother me any more, and I sleep like a child at night. I can't say too much for Tanlac."

"Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists—take no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.—Adv."

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Vendetta begins between MICHAEL SAYERS, noted criminal, and

SIR NORMAN GREYES, once of Scotland Yard, when Sayers

beautiful housemaid, JANET, saves him from Sir Norman by shooting dead an officer sent to arrest him. Greys falls in love with Janet and proposes marriage. Michael disguises himself as Colonel Escombe and attends the wedding reception. He steals a pearl necklace, the gift of Sir Norman to his bride. Later he returns them indirectly to Janet. Michael answers a cipher message published in a paper and buys from the divorced wife of a politician a bundle of manuscript, evidence against the woman's former husband and his confederate, Lord Kindersley.

Michael calls at the residence of Lord Kindersley and is granted an interview. Sayers offers Lord Kindersley a four-day retainer in which to secure his financial safety. After that time the letters are to be given for publication in the newspapers.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY

Michael Sayers continues:

Next morning there were sensational paragraphs in most of the financial papers. Shipping shares all reacted slightly, but the slump in Kindersley's was a thing no one could account for. They had fallen from six to five within 24 hours, and as soon as I reached my offices in Holburn, I received frantic messages from R.M. Young, husband, imploring me to close with a profit of over 20,000 pounds. There was nothing whatever wrong with the shares, he assured me, and they were bound to rally. I listened to all he had to say, gave him positive instructions not to disturb my operations in any way, and disregarding his piteous protests, rang off and made my way to the great newspaper offices, where my business of the morning lay.

It took me an hour to get as far as the assistant editor. I told him my story and showed him the documents. He went out of the room for a moment and returned with the editor. They both looked at me curiously.

"Who are you, Mr. Buckross?" the editor asked.

"A speculator," I answered. "I bought those papers from Rendall's divorced wife. She has a spite against him."

"How can one be sure that they are genuine?"

"Anyone who studies them must know that they are," I replied. "If you want confirmation, I told Lord Kindersley yesterday of their existence and forthcoming publication and advised him to sell as many of his shares as possible. Your financial column will tell you the result."

"What do you want us to do with these documents, Mr. Buckross?" the editor asked.

"I want you to give me a very large sum of money for them and then publish them," I replied.

"You know that there will be the devil of a row?"

"That will be your lookout. Their genuineness will be your justification."

The editor looked thoughtfully out the window. His face was as hard as granite, but he had very gray, human eyes.

"We should have no compunction about bringing the thunders down upon Rendall," he said. "But with Lord Kindersley it is a little different. He is a considerable and reputable figure in society."

"He might survive the disclosures," I suggested. "After all, there was a certain amount of justification for his conduct. He averted a national disaster, even if the means he used were immoral."

"A case can be built up for him, certainly," the editor remarked musingly. "What is your price for these documents?"

"Ten thousand pounds, and they must not be used before Thursday," I replied.

"Why not before Thursday?"

"I have given Lord Kindersley so much grace."

"You will leave the documents in our hands?" the editor proposed.

I considered the matter. I could think of nothing likely to alter my plans, but I was conscious of a curious aversion to taking the irrevocable step.

"You shall have them," I agreed, "if you will give a letter acknowledging that they are my property and promising to return them to me without publication, should I desire it, on Wednesday afternoon."

"What about the money?" the editor asked. "Do you want anything on account?"

"You are prepared to give me the 10,000 pounds?"

He shrugged his shoulders.

"We never bargain," he said. "There is no standard value for such goods as you offer. The question is whether you want anything in advance?"

"No, thank you," I answered. "I'll have the whole amount on Wednesday afternoon, or the documents back again. I think that it will be the money."

"I trust so," my two editorial friends replied in fervent unison.

On Wednesday morning the Kindersley Shipping Company shares stood at three and three-quarters, and a brief notice in the Times announced that His Lordship was confined to his house in South Audley Street, suffering from a severe nervous breakdown. Some idiotic impulse prompted me, after I had paid my brief visit to my office, to take a stroll in that direction. A doctor's carriage was waiting outside Kindersley House, and as I passed on the other side of the way, the front door opened and the doctor himself stood upon the threshold. The thought of Lord Kindersley's sufferings up to the present, inspired in me no other feeling than one of mild amusement. By the side of the doctor, however, Beatrice Kindersley was standing. . . .

I knew then that the end of my career must be close at hand. I was weakening. My nerve had gone. The instincts of childhood were returning to me. The morbid curiosity which had brought me to the house had been gratified with a vengeance. I had received a psychological stroke. The girl's drawn and tear-stained face had disturbed the callousness which I had deemed impregnable. A new scheme was forcing its way into my mind. There was only one redeeming point about it all—I walked for the next few hours in peril of my life. . . .

At half-past two that afternoon Beatrice Kindersley hastened into the little morning-room on the ground floor of Kindersley House to receive an unexpected visitor. Her lips parted in amazement as she saw who it was. I held up my finger.

"Colonel Escombe," I reminded her.

"You!" she exclaimed.

I knew that there was not a flaw in my make-up or deportment. I was the Colonel Escombe who had attended Norman Greys wedding, and whose presence there had led to some slight question concerning a pearl necklace.

"What do you want?" she asked breathlessly.

"To help you," I answered. "I saw you this morning, and you seemed so troubled."

She smiled at me gratefully, but a moment later her face was clouded with anxiety.

"It is dear of you," she said, "but you must go away at once. You are running a terrible risk. Sir Norman Greys is in the house. He is with my uncle now."

"What is he doing here?" I demanded.

My uncle sent for him to see if he could help. There is some serious trouble. I don't know what it is but my uncle says that it means ruin."

At the thought of the near presence of my old enemy, my whole being seemed to stiffen. Yet, alas, the weakness remained!

"Tell me," I said, "what does your distress mean? Has your uncle always been good to you? Is it for his sake that you are unhappy?"

"Entirely," she answered without hesitation. "I know that a great many people call him hard and unscrupulous. To me he has been the dearest person in the world. It makes my heart ache to see him suffer."

I glanced at my watch.

"Very well," I said, "give me five minutes to get clear away. When I am gone, give him this message. Tell him that Buckross has changed his mind and that he will hear from him before five o'clock."

"What have you to do with all this?" she asked wonderingly.

"Never mind," I answered. "Be sure to give me five minutes, and don't deliver any message before Norman Greys."

She walked with me to the door, but when I would have opened it, she checked me. Already her step was lighter. She took my hands in hers and I felt her soft breath upon my face.

"I am going to thank you," she whispered.

It was an absurd interlude.

Both the editor and the assistant editor did everything, short of going down on their knees, to induce me to change my mind. They offered me practically a fortune. They hinted, even that honors might be obtained for me. They tried to appeal to my patriotism, to sundry noble motives, not one of which I possessed. In the end I obtained the documents, addressed them to Miss Beatrice Kindersley, bought a great bunch of fragrant yellow roses, hired a messenger to go with me in the taxicab, and saw them delivered at Kindersley House.

That night I spent in my room, taking stock of myself. On the credit side, my deal in Kindersley's has brought me a profit of something like 30,000 pounds, likely to be considerably added to, as I had bought again at four. Further, I had abstained from becoming a blackmailer, and I had knocked Mr. Edward Rendall down. On the other hand, I might easily have made a hundred thousand pounds—and I had behaved like a fool. Perhaps the most disquieting feature of it all was that I was satisfied with the deal.

Reduce Those Dangerous Swollen Veins

Doctor's Recent Discovery Also Heals Boils, Carbuncles, Abscesses, and Open Sores in a Few Days.

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful germicide that not only causes enlarged or varicose veins and bunches to become normal, but also reduces goitre, enlarged glands and warts.

Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded.

It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil Treatment at once. As the swelling subsides, improvement will begin at once. Your druggist can supply you.—adv.

Practical Notes On the Sunday School Lesson

By Cal Ogburn

Lesson for April 15, Gen. 45:1-15. JOSEPH THE PRESERVER OF HIS PEOPLE.

"I am Joseph. . . . And his brethren. . . . were troubled at his presence."—v. 3. One of the most difficult and disagreeable of all tasks, whether it be self-imposed or enjoined by and pledged to another, is that of keeping a bad secret, as the brothers of Joseph learned to their repeated sorrow. The fact is, instead of the secret being kept, sooner or later it exposes the keeper. It is this certainty that concealed wrong will reveal itself sometime, and the suspense and dread of it, that makes it so annoying.

By the very indefiniteness of the time when the voice of guilt will be heard, like the knell of doom, a constant pall of indescribable foreboding is cast over the life of the transgressor. It is of the nature of secret sin to make its presence known.

An Avenging Nemesis That a bad secret, constantly accusing him who keeps it, will eventually carry out its threat to make itself known fills him with dread. It is the meanness of all blackmailers. Today it will accept a price and promise by all the stars of heaven that it will never, never disclose its guilty knowledge, and tomorrow it will repudiate its promise and demand more and yet more to remain silent—only in the end to renounce any and all agreements to which it is a party. "Come," plausibly invites this bad secret, "and let us go away together from the place that is so suggestive of what we both know all too well. Let us go elsewhere, and cease to remember—for we can, in some land that is forever washed by the Lethæan tide, let us start life anew—just you and me." But when they go, these two, the bad secret and its keeper, Memory and Remorse, both go with them.

It had been more than twenty-one years before Joseph's brethren went into Egypt to buy corn, that they had sold him to the Ishmaelites. And they were glad enough for one thing, that the famine was driving them to far-away Egypt for food, which was that it would take them away from what reminded them daily of the bad secret they were keeping. If they only could leave that behind, too. But it went with them. However it must have been farthest from the thought of any of them that they should find Joseph in Egypt. More than a score of years before he had been sold into slavery there—and he was dead long ago. No man had physique strong enough to withstand the hardships of an Egyptian slave's life for almost a quarter of a century, nor a will of sufficient power to keep him from yielding to the many temptations to gross sinful indulgences, the penalty for which was an early death. Certainly, Joseph was dead!

They said, "We have a father, an old man, and a child of his old age; and his brother is dead. Impelled by the Nemesis of retribution, though to them unwittingly, this statement they made through an interpreter to Joseph himself, thinking him to be an Egyptian whom they addressed as 'My Lord.'"

Then when the interpreter was absent they talked freely to one another before him, perfectly confident that they were safe in displaying their long-concealed secret in the "Egyptian's" presence. So "they said one to another, We are verily guilty concerning our brother, in that we saw the anguish of his soul, when he besought us, and we would not hear; therefore is this distress come upon us. And they knew not that Joseph understood them; for he spake unto them by an interpreter." Then he said, "I am Joseph your brother, whom ye sold into Egypt." No wonder "they were troubled at his presence."

Their bad secret was out at last, and when and where they were absolutely without defense against what might happen to them as a result. Now what would Joseph their grossly-wronged brother do to them?

"God did send me before you to preserve life."—v. 6. No less than three times is it said that "the Lord was with Joseph." Now put yourself in Joseph's place when his situation was at its worst. Think of being a foreign slave, in prison, accused by a woman of an attempted dastardly crime against her and she the wife of the chief executioner whose property you are. Lay the emphasis, in order, on each of these words and phases and what it stands for under the circumstances: without a friend to intercede; with no law insuring you a hearing; with no rights that anyone is bound to respect; a woman as your accuser, with incriminating evidence in her possession to support her statement; and an arbitrary master the head slaughterer, who is the woman's husband as the sole judge in your case. Now this was exactly the dilemma in which Joseph found himself. And the almost unbelievable thing about it all is that it is said, "The Lord was with Joseph."

Have Faith in God

The thirteen or more years of Joseph's life that he lived as a slave should teach us to have implicit faith in God. If we learn of Joseph's ability to interpret dreams, there is nothing unusual to indicate that God was with him. There is not a single move on the chessboard where Joseph is one of the pawns, except those prompted by some purely human motive, and they of the worst kind. Looking back upon these years, that had dragged themselves slowly and perplexingly by, Joseph declared to his brethren, "God sent me before you to preserve you a remnant in the earth, and to save you alive by a great deliverance."

Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

For many years it has been Henry Ford's personal ambition to make the Ford the universal family car—to put it within the reach of the millions of people who have never been privileged to enjoy the benefits of motor car ownership.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Ford cars have been placed in the hands of retail customers—more than a million and a half of them within the past twelve months—and yet there are still millions of families who are hopefully looking forward to the day when they can own a Ford.

And now the way is open.

Under the terms of this plan you can select your Ford Car, set aside a small amount each week and you will be surprised how soon you will own it. In the meantime your money will be safely deposited to your credit in one of the local banks where it will draw interest.

Think it over. Five dollars will start an account. The whole family can participate in it—father, mother, brothers and sisters each doing a little.

Why not start today? Stop in and talk it over with your local Ford dealer. He will be glad to fully explain the details of the plan and help you get started toward the ownership of a Ford car.

PROTEST FILED AGAINST RULE ON BUILDING

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 13.—W. J. Cameron and E. D. Burke, representing the Oil Workers' union of this city, appeared last night before the adjourned session of the city council and requested that a clause allowing property owners to erect a temporary building of cheap construction on the rear of their lot until such a time as they could afford to erect a building in keeping with the proposed regulations of the new Huntington Beach building ordinance. As a result there was a heated discussion of the whole building code matter with Richard Drew upholding the position of the council in the matter. Mayor Drew pointed out that the city must observe the state housing law which prohibits one family from eating and sleeping in one room.

It had been proposed by the council to enact such an ordinance as would do away with the shacks and huts of this city but no decision in the matter was reached last night after the objection on the part of the Oil Workers' union.

The folder, in which the civic virtues of Huntington Beach are attractively set forth, was approved by the council as prepared by Major W. C. Harter. Major Harter was requested to include an illustrative article on the local library and to have printed on the folder the address of the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

At the meeting of the Lions club this week the hospital committee brought in a report in which the city was urged to build and maintain a hospital here. The report was responsible for warm argument, and no action in the latter was taken by the luncheon club. The report was the result of visits to other hospitals and a thorough investigation of the matter by the committee. There was musical entertainment.

FOUR STUDENTS TIE IN CONTEST AT BEACH HIGH SCHOOL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 13.—Four boys and one girl tied for honors in the Freshman oratorical contest held at the high school under the direction of Mrs. Julia Hazelton, English teacher.

The contestants will be asked to compete again Monday to give the judges a better chance to decide the champion. A selection calling for considerable dramatic interpretation has been selected.

The four students tied were Betty Onson, Fay Loomis, Reba Riley, Alberta Turner, Keith Farrar.

As a result there was a heated discussion of the whole building code matter with Richard Drew upholding the position of the council in the matter. Mayor Drew pointed out that the city must observe the state housing law which prohibits one family from eating and sleeping in one room.

TAKE SHOTS AT LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH, April 13.—Laguna has been a very busy community for the last several days. Saturday the hotel was filled to overflowing with contestants in the motorcycle hill climb, held at Capistrano Sunday, and their friends.

The village was well filled Sunday with visitors and Tuesday a large number of players from the Robertson-Cole Film company's studio came into town and are domiciled at the Laguna Beach hotel, while a troupe from the Ince studio is staying at the Arch Beach tavern.

Two Companies Work
The Ince location is at Salt Creek, on the Louis Moulton ranch, where they have a set built between the lagoon and the ocean, on the shore.

The Robertson-Cole players are directed by Mal St. Claire, son of Laguna's "first" artist, and is starred by Clara Horton, George O'Hara and Arthur Rankin, who is the villain.

They are taking the tenth episode of the series called "Fighting Blood," about a week were called upon in the little bay just south of Goff Island.

Caveman Stuff
The scene they were shooting was prehistoric, caveman stuff, with the actors clad in animal skins and unburned.

Four beautiful maidens, in scant fur costumes, danced on the sands, while another, equally beautiful, was pursued by a leaping, shouting fawn man, with a club in his hand.

Other skin dressed cavemen, on a wave-washed rock, supplied atmosphere in the background.

The foreground was a hut with its inmates gathered about it. Among the inmates were a litter of little pigs, who made their presence known by piercing squeals every time they were called upon to perform and whose appetite for milk has kept the property man on the jump ever since they joined the company.

A billigerent ram is also a member of the company and seemed to be enjoying himself hugely in the knee-high grass on the bluff.

A stuffed ostrich gazed steadily towards Catalina from the cliff, where he stood, surrounded by the properties of the players.

The company has been out thirty weeks under the direction of Mal St. Claire.

Take Yacht Scenes
They were on location at Balboa a few weeks ago and took several scenes on the yacht "Comfort."

They expect to stay in Laguna for about a week, and then to go to the late Norman St. Claire, has a part in his brother's company.

The director is accompanied by his wife and his mother, Mrs. Norman St. Claire.

VILLA PARK, April 13.—Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Carrier of Orange, were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Carrier Sunday. In the afternoon they drove up to the county park.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morrison of Upland, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Collins. Little Virginia returned to Upland with them for a short visit.

Grace Ellen Lee returned Sunday evening from San Juan Capistrano, where she spent the week with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Smith. They all took Wednesday, April 11, at the Hazel cafe.

Elmer Jahraus, Roy W. Peacock and C. R. Clapp were present. The minutes were read and approved; bills were presented and ordered paid.

Mr. Jahraus showed a souvenir book of Al Malakiah Temple, in which a one-page advertisement costs two hundred and fifty dollars.

Mr. Peacock made a motion, which was seconded by Mr. Clapp, that the secretary be empowered to order a screen door and copper screen for the door and window of the Chamber of Commerce office.

The secretary, Mr. Frank Hanson, was also instructed to inspect the local life-saving apparatus, and, if necessary, have it renewed.

The next meeting of the Laguna Beach Woman's club will be held at the art gallery Friday morning, April 13.

Mrs. Emma H. Marshall, ex-president of the Press club of Los Angeles, will lecture; her subject being "Tendencies of Literature."

Luncheon will be at the Hazel cafe.

Mr. P. E. Kingman, accompanied by Mr. William Atwood of Brooklyn, Mass., is in Laguna for a week.

Mr. Atwood was so unfortunate as to lose his pocketbook, containing fifty-five dollars, on his way down to Laguna.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller and Mrs. Richardson have been at Arch Beach for a day or so.

They returned to Riverside on Wednesday.

Mrs. Malone Rodgers of Riverside, is occupying one of Mrs. Richardson's cottages at Arch Beach.

Mrs. Barbara Isch, who has been in Arizona for three months, returned to her home in Laguna Sunday.

Mr. F. W. Wright of Pasadena, has sold his Arch Beach house and is down to dispose of the furniture.

Elizabeth Kinell, Dorothy N. Kinell and J. H. Ryan, who is connected with the J. H. Peppers company of Riverside, were recent visitors to Laguna.

GAS STOVE BURNS WOMAN AT BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 13.—Mrs. Ida V. Tunstall, 1203 California avenue, was burned about the arms and face when she stooped to re-light her gas oven in her kitchen.

Ten minutes before she had lighted the oven and gone to the front of the house. Smelling gas, she went back to the kitchen, found the flame had gone out and when she opened the oven door the lighted match in her hand ignited the gas.

About half of her hair was burned.

Three creeps are working night and day driving the bit on its final plunge into the "black gold."

Some excitement was caused when the bit went through oil sand. Superintendent Crans decided to get a core and one was taken by Spencer and one was taken by Spencer and Davidson.

The formation was so hard that only a 15-inch core was procured but this showed high grade sand.

On Tuesday, of this week Secretary Templeman and Superintendent Crans were in Los Angeles where they consulted with the California Oil Bureau in regard to setting the casing which has arrived at San Pedro and is expected to reach here today.

Seventy-two joints of the casing will have to be taken to the machine shop where the collars will be taken off and re-dressed.

The drilling crew at the Shell well on the Susan Bryant lease is busy cleaning sand from the hole. Following the blowout of a week ago Saturday it was found necessary to drill through 2200 feet of sand.

The Dabney Well.
Casing is beginning to arrive at the R. Dabney well and work will be resumed at once. Mr. Dabney and the drill crew are confident they will get good production from the shallow sands.

Closely Watched
The Seal Beach field is being closely watched by oil operators as it is considered the most promising of what are termed the "wild cats." Three wells are reaching for the oil and the very near future is expected to bring big developments.

The mother and baby were both suffocated while asleep and the bodies were removed by neighbors just as the bed upon which they were lying caught fire.

They were alone. It is not known how the fire started. Mrs. Watt and family were California visitors a few years ago.

SOME QUESTIONS ANSWERED

As the date of the charter election approaches it appears that vast numbers of voters have not read the document. For instance, within the last twenty-four hours The Register has been asked many questions indicating that those who make the inquiries have not read the charter.

One question was: "If the charter is adopted will the officers elected last Monday be put out of office?" The answer is that they will not. On this point the charter provides, in Article XXVI, Section 2, that:

"Every officer of the City of Santa Ana, who shall have been elected or appointed to an elective office under the form of government in force in said city prior to the adoption of this Charter, and who shall be in office on the date this Charter takes effect, shall continue in such office, at the compensation provided by law or ordinance enacted prior to the adoption of this Charter, until the first Monday in May, 1924, and until their successors are elected and qualified as prescribed in this Charter, provided, that they shall discharge the duties of office under the designation, by the authority of, and in the manner provided in this Charter.

The President of the Board of Trustees shall be Mayor, and the four remaining members of the Board of Trustees shall each be a Councilman; the City Clerk shall be Clerk; the recorder shall be Police Judge, and the designation of the Treasurer, City Attorney, and Board of Education shall remain the same."

Another question is: "Will the adoption of the charter nullify existing city ordinances?" The answer is that it will not. In Article XXVI, Section 3, the charter provides that:

Continuance in Force
Every ordinance, resolution and regulation of the City of Santa Ana heretofore lawfully enacted, and which, at the date this Charter takes effect, shall be in force and unrevoked, shall continue in full force and effect as a valid ordinance, resolution or regulation of the City of Santa Ana under this Charter, until amended, set aside or repealed in the manner in this Charter provided."

One man came to The Register office and stated that he had heard another man make the positive statement that if the charter is adopted we shall have no city council. Of course, that statement is untrue.

Article III, Section 1, of the charter provides that: "The government of the City of Santa Ana is hereby vested in and shall be exercised by a Council to consist of one Mayor and four Councilmen; one Clerk, one Treasurer, one Police Judge and a Board of Education to consist of five members. Each of the foregoing officers shall be elected at large and shall hold office for the term of four years from and after the first Monday in the month of May next succeeding their several elections and until their successors are elected and qualified."

ROWELL'S COLUMN WITHDRAWN

It is with much regret that The Register announces, and we know that it will be with equal regret that our readers will read, that the daily column of comment by Chester H. Rowell will be discontinued Saturday of this week.

Mr. Rowell is planning a trip abroad, and has found it necessary to give up writing for the syndicate that has supplied his comments to a number of California newspapers.

Whether one agrees with Chester Rowell, the fact remains that he is a remarkable student, writer and thinker. He not only thinks, but he makes others think.

BULGARIAN WAR CRIMINALS

The completion of the trial of Bulgarian war criminals leaves little to be desired by those of all lands who wish to see justice done. Former Premier Radoslavoff and five of his cabinet ministers, held jointly responsible for dragging Bulgaria into the World War, have been found guilty of treason, and sentenced to life imprisonment, in addition to the payment of huge fines. Minor civil and military officers and advisers are given smaller penalties.

It is considered in Bulgaria that they have all been lucky to escape the fate of the Greek leaders who betrayed their country by bringing back the traitorous Constantine, and who thereupon made still more trouble for Greece.

The Bulgarian prisoners were arrested five years ago, when Czar Ferdinand, the arch-criminal, was overthrown, and have been in jail ever since. They were not tried and sentenced in a moment of popular passion. Their punishment is the result of sober judgment, regular court procedure and the sifting of a great mass of evidence. The people of Bulgaria, who themselves repented bitterly of the crime into which they were led, will not regard their country as purged of its offense against civilization.

The contrast with Germany's treatment of her war criminals is inevitable. Everyone knows how Germany agreed at Versailles to let the Allies punish the leaders who launched the great war, then persuaded the Allies to let her do it herself, and ended by making a farce of the whole business. It is that fact, as much as any other, which infuriates the French and Belgians. Those Allies probably would not be in the Ruhr today if the Germans had done what the Bulgarians have done.

THIS SUMMER ABROAD

A traffic man, familiar with conditions in Europe, believes that people will be able to travel abroad this summer with little or no interference.

The Ruhr is to be left out of calculations entirely, in this man's opinion. It is a very limited area, being smaller than Rhode Island, and the traveler can pass around it in all directions without inconvenience and with very little lost from his trip that is of value or interest. As for the rest of Europe, this is his report:

"Our advices confirm cabled reports that there is a feeling of compromise and settlement in the air. But whether a settlement is reached or not, travelers may go anywhere in Europe, with virtually the same freedom as they ever enjoyed."

This is how the traffic man with an ax to grind feels about it. Persons who are returning from abroad agree in principle but with reservations. They say that travel is safe, fairly comfortable and not unduly restricted, all things considered. A good many inconveniences are met with. Travel in some areas is limited and a little dangerous because of sanitary and health conditions. This latter criticism, however, applies more to the Near East than to the old-established European tourist routes.

At present exchange is in the tourist's favor. Later, when stability is restored, travel may be more entirely satisfactory but it will cost more. So the person of limited means hoping to take his summer vacation in Europe may as well put his faith in the traffic man and go.

THE SPIRIT PICTURES

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle is back in America, armed with a new outfit of "spirit photographs," and other spiritualistic evidence, and more than ever determined to make the American public accept his ideas of the life after death.

Most people are willing enough to believe in a future life, and indeed would find it hard not to do so if they tried. But most people are not ready to accept the evidence offered by Sir Arthur, or at least not ready to accept his interpretation of the evidence. It is particularly hard to accept those photographs. Nearly everyone has a clear notion of two things making up a human being—the body, and the mind or spirit. One is material, and known by the five senses. The other is immaterial, and known only by thought.

Can the material eyes see the immaterial spirit? Science is inclined to say no, and so is common sense. God is a spirit, and "no man hath seen God at any time." How a material camera can photograph a spirit is surely beyond ordinary understanding.

It is thinkable that a camera or a human eye might catch a spirit which had clothed itself in substance—in a material form. But that would be seeing matter, not the spirit, just as we see the material body when we look at the living person.

Burdens of War In Taxes

Pasadena Star-News.

The whole world is groaning under heavy taxes, directly or indirectly attributable to the World War. The American people, more fortunate than some of the peoples that participated in the titanic struggle, are themselves heavily taxed, and at best will be for a long period, because of the colossal costs of the World War.

This twofold item of costs—the cost in precious lives and in anguish and tears, and the cost in dollars and cents—these appalling costs of warfare should incline the world strongly against recurrence of great wars in future.

War, from beginning to end, entails burdens and hardships. This country has been and is burdened to keep itself prepared to defend itself against armed attack. So long as world conditions continue to be as they are, preparedness for military defense is necessary. But it is highly proper and pertinent for this Nation and for other great powers to move concertedly for some acceptable form of world compact which would bring about general reduction of armaments throughout the world and ultimately lead to practically complete disarmament by all the great countries of the earth.

The Highway Problems

Riverside Enterprise.

The state highway commission has a Herculean task in keeping all of the people satisfied who want highway construction in their particular neighborhoods and get any kind of efficient results. The suggestion that there be a complete survey and report of the entire state situation is a good one and if made would open the eyes of the people as to just what they have before them.

The completion of the state highways will necessitate another bond issue at some time in the future. Whether the accomplishment of that result can best be attained by spreading the small remaining road funds over the many projects outlined in the former bond issue, completing none of them or spending it on the main roads, is the best plan to secure the passage of a bond election issue, remains to be seen. At least there is a very apparent desire on the part of the people of Riverside county for a permanently established route at some time between Blythe and Mecca, or other Coachella Valley and Palo Verde Valley points. The definite location of the route, which should have been determined long ago by the old state highway commission, should be determined by the present commission strictly on its merits.

New Southland Highways

Long Beach Press.

New highways for Southern California are under contemplation by the State Highway Commission. Hearings are being held in this section in an endeavor to decide upon construction plans. Different interests and different localities are being heard by the State Commission to determine just where new road work should be done.

The tremendous growth of this section is recognized by the Highway Commission. The Southland's highway needs have expanded with the expansion of population and of business, industrial and agricultural development. Good roads are essential to community growth in this section. Once looked upon as luxuries, permanently-improved highways now are regarded as necessities.

In any and all new road construction in this Southland and throughout the state it is to be hoped that the quality of the road work shall receive especial consideration, to the end that highways may be durable and not an endless source of additional cost to taxpayers for extensive repairs.

The Motor Trail

El Centro Press.

An officer of the Lincoln Highway Association says that automobile traffic from the East to the Pacific Coast has increased 200 per cent every year since 1914. There is every reason to expect the usual increase this year. Already, in thousands of homes throughout the East, South and Middle West, plans are being made, camp equipment is being overhauled or ordered and the car is being put into commission for the grand tour.

Those who saw the tourists thronging the famous highway last year may gasp at the thought of three times that many hitting the trail in 1923. And when this increase is compounded for a few years more, the resulting total is incredible. Yet last year's total would have seemed just as incredible a short while ago.

Nothing is surer than that cruising in motor cars, across and up and down this little old continent, and in every part of it, is already the grandest outdoor sport in America and is going to attain vast proportions in the future. Sections, states, cities and individuals are going to profit accordingly, if they look ahead to provide the good roads, camp sites, hotels, garages and other facilities that the tourists will need.

It's An Interesting Experiment, Anyway

We Sail an Uncharted Sea

From "The Social Trend," by Edward Alsworth Ross, in Century

"We moderns are like mariners on a ship sailing an uncharted sea. We cannot lay our course in the light of experience of our ancestors.

None of them ever plowed these waters; that is to say, before us no folk ever practiced machine production, let its daughters work away from home, bestowed leisure upon multitudes of its wives, saved its babies, vanquished disease, and slew its foes by mechanism, to the extent that we do.

So study of the past cannot reassure us as to how these things are going to work out.

Science and invention have borne us away from the routes followed by any previous society. They have brought us into strange latitudes where we have nothing to go by.

And they do not allow us to feel our way deliberately, put out scout boats, take soundings. They hurry us on. So the best we can do is to set watchers to scan the horizon.

The sociologist is just a man in the crow's nest who knows no more of this sea than his fellows. But from his position he will catch sight of the coming dangers—shoals, sunken rocks, derelicts, cross-currents—before they are seen by those on deck.

WHEN AS A LAD

When as a lad, at break of day
I watched the fishers sail away,
My thought, like flocking birds, would follow
Across the curving blue sky's hollow,
And on and on—
Into the very heart of dawn!

For long I searched the world! Ah me!
I searched the sky, I searched the sea,
With much of useless grief and rueing,
Those winged thoughts of mine pursuing—
So dear were they,
So lovely and so far away!

I seek them still and always will Until my laggard heart is still,
And I am free to follow, follow,
Across the curving sky's blue hollow
Those thought too fleet
For any save the soul's swift feet!

The lecturer had just finished his eruption and had gone to the box office to be settled with.

"I certainly wasn't at my best tonight," he deplored. "I hardly feel like accepting my fee."

"Well," said the chairman of the Lyceum committee, "if you really feel that way and want to donate your fee, we could use it nicely in a cause we women are all interested in."

He was a game bird, so he said:

"Go ahead and use it! And what is this cause you speak of?"

"Trying to get hold of better lecturers for next year."

Sacramento Pleased With City Manager Government

The statement has frequently been made, by one or two men who oppose the charter—especially the "city manager" feature thereof—that the people of Sacramento are greatly dissatisfied with the city manager form of city government, etc., etc.

The Register had and has plenty of reliable information to the contrary; but as it came from people having more or less connection with the city government (the very best source of reliable information, but a source that might be questioned,) we wrote to the well-known merchant, Chas. P. Nathan, of Chas. P. Nathan & Sons, and asked him for his own opinion and for information as to public opinion on the question. Here is his answer:

Established 1859

Sacramento, Calif., April 7, 1923.

Mr. J. P. Baumgartner, Care Register Publishing Co.,
Santa Ana, California.

Dear Sir:—On behalf of Mr. Chas. P. Nathan, I am very glad to answer your letter of March 28, and to fully assure you that I believe that the present form of city government in Sacramento, which provides for a city manager, is a complete success.

I believe that the present form of government is most efficient, and, in my opinion, few citizens of Sacramento would favor going back to the old form of city trustees elected from various wards and a mayor elected at large. Neither do I believe that they would again consider the city commissioner form of government, which was in effect in Sacramento for about five years previous to the present form.

I am glad to say to your citizens through your publication that I heartily indorse our present form of government.

Planting Pearls

The finest fresh-water pearls are found in the shells of mussels gathered in the Mississippi river and its tributaries. Upwards of 500 varieties of mussels are found in these waters.

Plans are being carried out by the United States bureau of fisheries to assume a supply of pearls in years to come. A large crop planted this year will be available about 1928. Nancy and Nick soon arrived in some stairs and pretty soon they came to the garret and looked out of a window.

They knew they were in the right place for no sooner had the Magic Shoes set them on the ground than a popping noise began that could be nothing else than guns going off.

"Then we can help you!" answered Nick. "We brought some things along."
